These banks are located by geographical divisions as follows: Eastern States, nine banks with a capital of $950,000; Middle States, twenty-six, with a capital of $2,517,000; Southern States, twenty-nine, with a capital of $2,775,300; Western States, eighty-six, with a capital of $7,940,000; Pacific States and Territories, twenty-one, with a capital of $1,585,000.

Nineteen banks, with an aggregate capital of $1,855,000 and circulation of $1,440,800, have voluntarily discontinued business during the year. The number of banks organized and in voluntary liquidation as given, is exclusive in each case of those banks which have gone into voluntary liquidation during the year and have been succeeded by other banks, with the same or nearly the same shareholders.

Three national banks, since November 1, have been placed in the hands of receivers, making 87 in all since the establishment of the system. The total number of banks which have voluntarily closed their affairs by vote of shareholders owning two-thirds of their stock, under sections 5220 and 5221 of the Revised Statutes, has been 414; 72 of this number have gone into liquidation within the past year, of which 53 were closed by their stockholders for the purpose of organizing new banks, and all but three of this latter number in anticipation of the near approach of the expiration of their corporate existence.

The shareholders of six banks permitted their corporate existence to expire, and these associations are in liquidation under section 7 of the act of July 12, 1882. National banks are organized in every State of the Union and in every organized Territory. The total number in operation on October 3 last was 2,269—the largest number that has ever been in operation at any one time.

The following table exhibits the resources and liabilities of the national banks at the close of business on the 3d day of October, 1882, the returns from New York City, from Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, from the other reserve cities, and from the remaining banks of the country, being tabulated separately :

VIII REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

In the Appendix will be found a table, showing the principal resources and liabilities on October 3, 1882, of the banks in the States, Territories, and reserve cities, arranged in eight divisions.

NUMBER, CAPITAL, AND DEPOSITS OF NATIONAL BANKS, STATE AND SAVINGS-BANKS, AND PRIVATE BANKERS.

Section 333 of the Revised Statutes of the United States requires the Comptroller to present annually to Congress a statement of the condition of the banks and savings-banks organized under State laws. Returns of capital and deposits are made by these institutions and by private bankers semi-annually, to this department for purposes of taxation. From these returns the following table has been compiled, exhibiting, in concise form, by geographical divisions, the total average capital and deposits of all the State and savings-banks and private bankers of the country, for the six months ending May 31, 1882:

The capital of the 2,239 national banks in operation on July 1, 1882, as will be seen by a table in the Appendix, was $477,184,390, not including surplus, which fund at that date amounted to more than 131 millions of dollars; while the average capital of all the State banks, private bankers, and savings-banks, for the six months ending May 31, 1882, was but $234,929,976. The latter amount is less than two-fifths of the combined capital and surplus of the national banks.

The table below exhibits the capital and net deposits of the national banks on July 1, 1882, together with the aggregate average capital and deposits of all classes of banks other than national, for the six months ending May 31, 1882:

The total number of banks and bankers in the country at the date named was 7,302, with a total banking capital of $712,114,366, and total deposits of $2,850,678,178.

In the Appendix will be found similar tables for various periods from 1875 to 1882. On a subsequent page in this report, under the head of "State banks, savings banks, and trust companies," will be found tables showing the resources and liabilities of these corporations for the present year, and in the Appendix similar results for previous years.

A table arranged by States and principal cities, giving the number, capital, and deposits, and the tax thereon, of all banking institutions other than national and of the private bankers of the country, for the six months ending May 31, 1882, and for previous years, will also be found in the Appendix.

The following table exhibits, for corresponding dates nearest to May 31 in each of the last seven years, the aggregate amounts of the capital and deposits of each of the classes of banks given in the foregoing table:

EXTENSION OF THE CORPORATE EXISTENCE OF NATIONAL BANKS.

Section 11 of the national-bank act of February 25, 1863, provides that—

Every association formed pursuant to the provisions of this act may make and use a common seal, and shall have succession by the name designated in the articles of association, and for the period limited therein, not, however, exceeding twenty years from the passage of this act.

Ninety-eight national banks organized under this act were entitled, under their organization papers, to continue for nineteen years only, and the corporate existence of 307 other banks will expire on or before the close of business on February 24, next.

The Comptroller recommended in his last report—

That an act be passed during the present session, authorizing any national bank, with the approval of the Comptroller, at any time within two years prior to the date of the expiration of its corporate existence, to extend its period of succession for twenty years, by amending its articles of association. The bill may provide that such amendments must be authorized by the votes of shareholders owning not less than two-thirds of the capital of the association, the amendment to be certified to the Comptroller of the Currency, by the president or cashier, verified by the seal of the association, and not to be valid until the Comptroller's approval thereof shall have been obtained, and he shall have given to the association a certificate authorizing it to continue its business under such extension. Responsibility for the extension of the corporate existence of the banks will thus, in a measure, rest with the Comptroller; and he can require such an examination of their affairs to be made prior to granting the extension, as may seem to him proper, in order to ascertain if the capital stock is intact, and all the assets of the bank in a satisfactory condition. * * *

If, for any reason, the legislation herein proposed shall not be favorably considered by Congress, the banks can still, under the present laws, renew their existence if they so desire; and in the absence of prohibitory legislation many of them undoubtedly will, on the expiration of their present charters, organize new associations, with nearly the same stockholders as before, and will then apply for and obtain from the Comptroller certificates authorizing them to continue business for twenty years from the respective dates of their new organization certificates. Such a course of procedure will be perfectly legal, and, indeed, under the existing laws, the Comptroller has no discretionary power in the matter, but must necessarily sanction the organization, or reorganization, of such associations as shall have conformed in all respects to the legal requirements.

The passage, however, of a general act directly authorizing an extension of the corporate existence of associations whose charters are about to expire would, in many instances, relieve the banks from embarrassment. As the law now stands, if the shareholders of an association are all agreed, the process of reorganization is simple; but if any of the shareholders object to such reorganization, they are entitled to a complete liquidation of the bank's affairs, and to a pro rata distribution of all its assets, including its surplus fund. In many instances executors and administrators of estates hold national-bank stock in trust; and while they might prefer to retain their interests in the association which issued the stock, they would perhaps have no authority to subscribe for stock in the new organizations. While, therefore, the legislation asked for is not absolutely essential, yet its passage at an early day would be a great convenience to many of the national banks, and especially so to the class last referred to.

Some doubts having been expressed in reference to the right of the shareholders of national banks whose corporate existence had expired to organize new associations with the same names as those which had just expired, the opinion of the Attorney-General was requested on this point, and on the 23d of February, 1882, an opinion was given, in which he said:

The present national banking laws do not forbid the stockholders of an expiring corporation from organizing a new banking association, nor from assuming the name of the old corporation, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, and, in the absence of any prohibition to that effect, no legal obstacle to the formation of a new association by such stockholders, and the adoption of the name of the old association, would, in my opinion, exist.

He also said:

I do not know of anything to prevent a national banking association, upon the expiration of the period limited for its duration, from being converted into a State bank under the laws of the State, provided it has liquidated its affairs agreeably to the laws of Congress; nor after it has thus become a State bank, to prevent such bank from being converted back into a national banking association under section 5154 of the Revised Statutes, and adopting the name of the expired corporation, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency. To enable a State bank so to reconvert itself into a national banking association, authority from the State is not necessary.*

In conformity with this opinion, fifty banks have been organized to succeed other institutions whose corporate existence has expired and which had previously given notice of liquidation. These banks have in most cases been organized with the same title as that of the banks which had been placed in liquidation and by the same stockholders.

Soon after the assembling of the present Congress a bill was introduced for the extension of the corporate existence of national banks, embodying the recommendations of the Comptroller. It was subsequently reported to the House from the committee with important amendments, and, after continued discussion, passed on May 30, 1882, by a vote of 125 to 67.† The bill was amended in the Senate in many particulars, and passed that body on June 22, 1882, by a vote of 34 to 14,‡ and was subsequently passed in the House July 10, upon the report of the conference committee, yeas 110, nays 79, not voting 101,* and received the approval of the President on July 12, 1882.

The act provides for the extension of the corporate existence of all national banks for twenty years by amending their articles of association, which amendment shall be authorized by the consent in writing of shareholders owning not less than two-thirds of the capital stock of the association. It provides that the Comptroller, upon receipt of the application of the bank and the amendment certified by the association, shall cause a special examination to be made to determine its condition, and authorizes him to grant his certificate for the proposed extension, if the condition of the association is found to be satisfactory. It provides that any shareholder not assenting to the amendment of the articles of association may give notice in writing to the directors, within thirty days of the date of the certificate of approval of the Comptroller, that he desires to withdraw from said association, in which case he is entitled in accordance with the method provided in the act to receive from said association the value of the shares; that in the organization of any association intended to replace any existing banking association and retaining the name thereof, holders of stock in the expiring association shall be entitled to preference in the allotment of the shares of the new bank in proportion to the number of shares held by them respectively in the expiring association; that the circulating notes of the association extending its period of succession, which were issued to it previous to such extension, shall be retired by redemption at the Treasury; that at the end of three years from the date of such extension lawful money shall be deposited by the bank with the Treasurer for the redemption of the circulation then outstanding; that any gain that may arise from the failure to present such circulating notes for redemption shall enure to the benefit of the United States; that new notes shall be issued to the banks thus extending, bearing such devices as shall make them readily distinguishable from those previously issued and that national banks whose corporate existence has expired or shall hereafter expire, which do not avail themselves of the privilege of extension, shall give notice of liquidation and deposit lawful money for the retirement of their circulating notes as required by law. It also provides for the extension of the franchise of expiring associations for the sole purpose of liquidation until their affairs are finally closed. The other provisions of the act in reference to national banks are general in their character and do not exclusively apply to banks whose corporate existence is extended by its provisions.

Immediately upon the passage of this act appropriate blanks were prepared for the use of those banks whose corporate existence was about to expire, and new circulating notes were subsequently issued to such institutions as conformed to the law. The note of the denomination of five dollars has for its vignette the portrait of the late President Garfield. The faces of the notes of other denominations are similar to those previously issued, but all the new notes have, as a distinctive feature, the charter number engraved six different times in the border, so that the name of the bank issuing the note may be ascertained from fragments thereof. The charter number of each bank is also printed conspicuously in the center of the reverse or back of each note. The brown and green colors of the back of the new notes are said to be a protection against the arts of the photographer and counterfeiter, and are printed upon the new distinctive paper which has given general satisfaction.

Under the act of July 12, 1882, 30 banks have already extended their corporate existence, and nearly all of the banks which were organized under the act of February 25, 1863, have already given notice of their intention to take advantage of the act. The total number of banks whose corporate existence either has expired, or would have expired if no action had been taken by their stockholders, is 86, having a capital of $18,877,500, and surplus of $6,994,854, and circulation of $12,840,010. Of these 50 were placed in liquidation by their stockholders previous to the date of the expiration of their corporate existence, and all but two before the passage of the act of July 12, 1882. The stockholders of 45 of these liquidating banks organized new associations with the same name; those of four organized new associations with different names, and those of one did not perfect any new organization. The corporate existence of six of the 86 banks first mentioned expired* without having been previously put into liquidation. The united stockholders of three of these banks perfected new organizations with the same name, and in the case of two others a portion of the stockholders organized new associations with different names, while those of one took no action. The stockholders of the remaining 30 of the 86 banks mentioned, which are all of the banks whose corporate existence has expired since the passage of the act of July 12, 1882, have extended under this act.

The number of national banks yet in operation at the date of this report, organized under the act of February 25, 1863, is 307, and their corporate existence will expire on the following dates :

Date.	No. of banks.	Capital.	Circulation.
December, 1882.....	10	$1,420,000	$1,278,000
January, 1883.....	3	400,000	360,000
February, 1883.....	294	69,793,250	53,222,170

Section 8 of the act of June 3, 1864, provides that each association—

Shall have power to adopt a corporate seal, and shall have succession by the name designated in its organization certificate, for the period of twenty years from its organization, unless sooner dissolved according to the provisions of its articles of association, or by the act of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock, or unless the franchise shall be forfeited by a violation of this act.

Under the previous act, banking associations were entitled to succession for twenty years from the date of the passage of the law; but under the act of 1864, each association was entitled to an existence of twenty years from the date of its organization certificate. The Merchants' National Bank of Boston was the first association to organize under the act of June 3, 1864, and its organization was followed by the conversion of 28 other banks in the city of Boston and 22 in the city of Philadelphia during the same year, and by the conversion of 38 banks in the city of New York during the year 1865.

The provisions of the act of July 12, 1882, relating to the extension of the corporate existence of national banking associations, have proved to be well adapted to the purpose for which they were intended. They are simple in form and appear to be readily understood by the banks.

* These banks were, however, revived for purpose of liquidation by section 7 of the act of July 12, 1882.

The whole number of banks now in operation which organized under the act of June 3, 1864, whose periods of succession will expire during each year previous to 1900 is 1608, with capital and circulation as follows:

Years.	No. of banks.	Capital.	Circulation.

One advantage in extending the corporate existence of associations under this law, over the only method possible previous to its passage, is in the retention of the surplus fund.

Thus, in the case of the fifty-four banks which have been liquidated, either under sections 5220 and 5221, or under section 7 of the act of July 12, 1882, by their stockholders, in order to organize new associations, the surplus was reduced from $5,540,067 to $2,559,252.

The aggregate surplus of the thirty banks extending their existence under the act of July 12, 1882, has slightly increased.

COIN AND PAPER CIRCULATION OF THE UNITED STATES.

On another page, tables similar to those which have been given in the three preceding annual reports are published, exhibiting the amounts of gold and silver coin and paper currency which were in the Treasury, in the banks, and in the hands of the people at the time of the resumption of specie payments, and on the 1st of November of each year since that date.

The total amount of the circulating medium of the country on November 1 is given as follows:

Treasury notes outstanding.....	$346,681,016
National bank notes outstanding .....	362,727,747
Gold in the Treasury, less certificates held by the banks ..	148,435,473
Standard silver dollars in the Treasury .....	92,414,977
Subsidiary silver coin and silver bullion in the Treasury ..	30,761,985
Coin in the national banks.....	102,362,063
Coin in State and savings banks .....	17,892,500
Estimated amount of coin held by the people.....	387,562,793
Total .....	1,488,838,554

The estimated total currency of the country on November 1 thus appears to have been more than fourteen hundred and eighty-eight millions, which is four hundred and thirty-three millions in excess of the amount held on January 1, 1879, and one hundred and eighty-six millions in excess of the amount held two years ago—on November 1, 1880. The gain in gold coin since the resumption of specie payments has been two hundred and eighty-eight millions, and in gold and silver coin three hundred and ninety-four millions. The increase in national bank notes has been nearly thirty-nine millions.

No change has been made in the amount of legal-tender notes outstanding. It remains at $346,681,016, which was the amount outstanding at the date of the passage of the act of May 31, 1878, which prohibited any further reduction of the volume of these notes.

The act of January 14, 1875, required the Secretary of the Treasury on and after January 1, 1879, to redeem in coin these notes, on their presentation at the office of the Assistant Treasurer in the city of New York, in sums of not less than fifty dollars. In order that he might always be prepared to do this, he was "authorized to use any surplus revenue from time to time, in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and to issue, sell, and dispose of, at not less than par, in coin," any of the five, four and a half, and four per cent. bonds authorized by the act of July 14, 1870. This act is still in force, and gives the Secretary unlimited power with which to provide for the redemption in coin of the legal-tender notes. He is thus enabled, so long as the credit of the government continues good, to check, by the sale of United States bonds, any exportation of coin which might endanger the redemption of United States legal-tender notes.

These notes were issued at a time when the expenditures of the government were in excess of its revenue. Its receipts now so largely exceed its expenditures that more than 148 millions of the public debt was paid during the past year. The only reason that can be advanced for the increase of these issues, would be that they may be substituted for other forms of public debt, and the only method by which they can now be disbursed is in payment of United States bonds, at a time when the bonds are being paid from the surplus revenue at a rate unprecedented in the history of nations. It is evident that whatever difference of opinion may have heretofore existed upon the subject, so long as the revenue shall continue to supply more money than is needed for expenditures, there can be no sufficient reason for the authorization by Congress of an increase of these notes.

The act of July 12, 1882, has again inaugurated the policy of issuing gold certificates. These substitutes for coin are hereafter to be issued against deposits of coin in the Treasury, and, together with certificates for silver deposited in like manner, are authorized to be included in the reserves of the banks, and to be used as clearing-house certificates in the cities where clearing-houses are established. They will not increase the amount of the currency in the country, but, by saving the cost of transporting specie from one point to another, will render the stock of specie more available for use by the banks and the people.

The Comptroller, in his report for 1881, in elaborate tables giving the receipts of banks upon two different days, showed that the proportion of money required for the transaction of business throughout the whole country was about five per cent. of the total receipts, the remaining ninety-five per cent. being in checks and drafts. There has been during the current year an increase of 171 in the number of national banks in operation, and during the three preceding years the increase was 314. During the current year 36 additional State banks and 353 private bankers have commenced business. The rapid increase in these places of deposit brings into use a larger number of the small checks of depositors, and largely diminishes the use of the circulating medium. These depositories, and the amount of capital employed in banking, notwithstanding the excessive taxation imposed upon this business, nearly keep pace with the advance in the population and wealth of the country; but the increase in the receipts and payment of banks and bankers, made by checks and drafts, shows the absurdity of the theory that the money required for business purposes, should bear a fixed proportion to the population or to the wealth of the country.

The same causes which have operated to bring about a rapid reduction of the public debt have also tended to increase the circulating medium. The large imports of coin, in excess of exports, together with the products of the mines, have filled the channels of circulation. The circulation during the past year has undoubtedly been much larger than at any period since the organization of the government. The per capita of circulation is larger, and it is probable that its proportion to wealth is greater than at any previous time. It is undoubtedly large enough to supply the legitimate demands of business; and it is probable that the addition to the coin of the country, since the resumption of specie payments, has been in advance of such demands. There has been no complaint of scarcity of money which cannot probably be traced to those engaged in speculative business, and however great the aggregate of the circulating medium may become, complaints of scarcity will always be heard from those who desire a rise in prices.

No other nation economises the use of its circulating medium as does this, and it is probable that but a slight annual increase in the amount of national bank notes outstanding will hereafter be required, provided that the exports of coin are not greatly in excess of imports, and the receipts from our increasing revenue, in excess of the requisite reserve, are kept in circulation and not hoarded in the Treasury.

The interest-bearing bonded debt of the United States has been rapidly reduced since 1869, at which time the funding of the miscellaneous obligations of the government had been successfully accomplished. The reduction of this debt during the twelve years ending June 30, 1881, has been more than six hundred and forty-eight millions ($648,403,668) and the amount of interest paid more than one thousand two hundred and seventy millions ($1,270,596,784); the average annual payment of the principal being $54,033,639, and of interest, $105,883,065. The annual average reduction in the interest-bearing debt during the last three years, ending November 1, has been $126,295,816. The reduction during the past year was $148,648,550.

The successful refunding of the five and six per cents as they matured, at first into four and four and one-half per cents, and subsequently into three and one-half per cents, and during the last year into three per cents, together with the rapid reduction of the debt, has had the effect of renewing the discussion as to the permanency of the national banking system, and its ability under existing laws to supply the additional circulation which may be hereafter annually required. The banks hold 40 millions of three and one-half per cents, and nearly 180 millions of three per cents as security for their circulation. If the debt should hereafter continue to be reduced at the same rate as during the last year, all of these bonds will be called for payment in less than three years, and it will be necessary for the banks holding such called bonds, either to deposit lawful money for the purpose of retiring two hundred millions of their circulation, or to purchase four or four and one-half per cents, or Pacific Railway six per cents, which are now at a high premium in the market.

Many plans have been suggested for the purpose of supplying the deficiency in bank circulation, which it is probable will arise as these bonds are paid.

The systems of banking in operation previous to the establishment of the national banking system, and particularly those known as the "charter" and "safety-fund" systems, have been brought forward for discussion, and opinions have been expressed that under the general restrictions of the national banking system, or with increased limitations, it would be advisable for Congress to authorize the issue of circulating notes based upon the capital, the assets, and the individual liability of stockholders, without requiring, as heretofore, the actual deposit of securities in the Treasury for such issues. It has been suggested if the circulation issued be considerably less than the actual capital paid up, and if the bill holder be entitled to a first lien upon all the assets of the bank, and to the amount which may be collected upon the individual liability of the shareholder, that the people would be abundantly secure from any loss upon the circulation so issued by the banks. As supplementary to this proposition, it has also been suggested that the banks be required to hold not less than the minimum amount of bonds now provided by law, which is estimated not to exceed 100 millions of dollars, and that in addition they be required to deposit ten per cent. upon their capital in coin with the Treasurer as a safety fund, and that they shall continue to receive each other's notes in payment of obligations due them.

It is not probable that the stockholders of those banks which do not desire to issue circulation, would be willing to continue business upon the condition that they should contribute so large an amount to a fund intended to insure the public against the issues of fraudulent or badly-managed institutions. It is suggested, however, that the proposition would be improved if banks desiring to issue circulation be required to contribute to such a fund a percentage upon the circulation issued, instead of a percentage upon capital. If this fund, amounting to, say, 30 millions, be held in United States three per cent. bonds instead of coin, and the losses from the circulation of insolvent banks be small, the interest, in the course of a few years, if retained as proposed, would amount to a considerable sum. The large fund on deposit in the Treasury for the purpose of redeeming the notes of national banks retiring circulation now amounts to more than 38 millions. If it should be thought expedient to invest a considerable portion of this fund in three per cents, thus releasing it from the Treasury, the income might also be added to the safety fund. The gain resulting from the failure on the part of the public, to present for redemption national bank notes which are being retired by an act of the present Congress, accrues to the benefit of the government, and it is estimated will amount to not less than from three to five millions during each twenty years. This gain might also properly be included in the proposed safety fund, and in the course of a few years these funds, by reinvestment, would increase to so large an amount, that the securities required to be deposited by the banks could be largely diminished.

The foregoing propositions have no precedents in any form of general legislation heretofore known in this country. Circulation authorized upon similar plans has heretofore been issued to banks which have been specially chartered, and not to banks organized under a general law.

Nearly every State in the Union has had its experience in authorizing the issue of bank notes, based exclusively upon the capital and assets of the banks issuing the same; and many States have required the accumulation of a safety fund for the protection of the public from unsecured and uncurrent bank notes. In most cases circulation was authorized to be issued by such banks equal to the capital; sometimes the amount issued was less; sometimes it largely exceeded the capital.

The Suffolk system in the New England States, which was perhaps as good a system as could be desired to protect a bank circulation not secured by bonds, by a prompt and vigorous redemption of the notes, kept them in a healthy state, but the annual losses upon bank circulation, even in the New England States, up to the time of the organization of the national banking system, were by no means inconsiderable. Notwithstanding the restrictions then existing, banks of circulation were organized with but little capital paid in, and notes, either worthless or irredeemable, were placed in circulation at points remote from the places of issue. In New York under the safety fund system, and previous thereto, losses to the bill holders frequently occurred, and in other States, almost without exception, such losses were large, and have usually been estimated to have been, in the aggregate, not less than five per cent. annually of the whole amount outstanding. It is true that there are in England, Ireland, and Scotland 119 private and joint-stock banks, with many branches, which are authorized to issue circulation based upon their capital, but their authorized circulation is only about 100 millions of dollars. Thirty-five banks, with numerous branches in the Dominion of Canada, are also authorized to issue circulation in a similar manner, but the total circulation of these banks does not exceed 35 millions. Most of these are banks which have been in existence for many years, and were organized under special charters, and the liability of the shareholders in many cases, particularly in Great Britain, is unlimited.

No State or nation has ever authorized the organization of banks under a general banking law, with the right to issue circulating notes proportionate to capital, except under a restriction requiring the deposit with the government of securities as the basis for the issue of such notes. Banks in this and in other countries, which have been authorized to issue circulating notes without security, have been those organized under special charters, and in granting such charters the means and character of the applicants and proposed stockholders are subject to investigation by committees and legislators. Propositions for the issue of circulation without the fullest security cannot be too carefully considered. The security of the national-bank note under the present system is perfect. In twenty years not a single bank note has failed to be redeemed at its face value. Banks organized under a general law, located so often at great distances from commercial centers, render a security for circulation of uniform and positive value an absolute necessity. It is evident that the authorizing of more than three thousand banks, under a general or free banking law, to issue circulation without security, located in a country having such extensive territory as our own, would result disastrously.

Under the present banking system it is difficult in all cases to prevent the organization of banks with deficient capital, but if such banks are organized, at least no injury can happen from the issue of their circulating notes. The failure to pay the capital is almost certain soon to be ascertained, when such associations can be summarily closed, or required to make good the deficiency. If under the proposed system, banks should be organized with deficient capital and receive circulation, an irreparable injury would be accomplished before the worthless character of the assets could be ascertained. It would be practically impossible for any government officer to prevent unprincipled men from organizing and controlling such associations for the purpose of benefiting themselves at the expense of the holders of their circulating notes.

There are in this country more than a thousand State banks and trust companies, and nearly thirty-four hundred private bankers. The temptation would be strong, on the part of these corporations and individuals, to organize banks of circulation, if circulation could be obtained without depositing bonds as security therefor. The value of the different notes issued would depend upon the management of the bank and character and standing of the different stockholders. Many notes would be at a discount in exchange for coin, and the failure of one bank to pay its notes, would throw discredit upon the whole volume of bank circulation and the system under which such banks were organized. If the issue of circulation were confined to a few banks, organized by men of character, integrity, and means, such associations would be characterized as a monopoly. Even if corporations are organized upon the condition that all should contribute a percentage of the circulation to a safety fund for the protection of the aggregate circulation, there is danger that the issues of fraudulent or badly-managed banks would soon consume the safety fund, and it is evident that the circulation would be paid, if at all, at the expense of the depositor, who would be, in some cases, stripped of the dividends which under existing laws are distributed to unfortunate creditors.

Under the national banking system, it is provided that the circulation issued shall first be paid from the proceeds of the bonds deposited to secure the same. The proceeds of the remaining assets are distributed pro rata among the creditors. Eighty-seven national banks, in all having an aggregate capital of $19,262,600, have failed during the last twenty years, and since the organization of the system. The amount of circulation to which these banks were entitled under existing laws, namely, ninety per cent. upon capital, is $17,336,340, which is a less amount in the aggregate than the amount of dividends which will have been paid to the creditors of these insolvent institutions. Forty-four of these banks, having a capital of $10,094,000, would each have paid in full their circulation, if ninety per cent. had been issued upon their capital, from the proceeds of their assets, and would also have paid small dividends to their depositors. The remaining forty-three insolvent banks, having a capital of $9,168,600, would in the aggregate have paid, it is estimated, seventy-five per cent. only, from the avails of their assets upon the circulation authorized; entailing a loss upon the bill-holders of over $2,000,000, and leaving no assets whatever for the benefit of the depositors, whose claims are $9,043,605, and upon which dividends will be paid averaging, it is estimated, sixty-eight per cent. While these forty-three banks would in the aggregate have paid seventy-five per cent. to the bill-holders, about one-half of this number would have paid on the average from the avails of their assets not exceeding fifty per cent. of the amount of their circulating notes.

The losses which the holders of the notes of insolvent banks would have experienced under the national banking system, if securities had not been required to have been deposited, would have been small in comparison with the whole circulation. But the fact that such losses would have occurred in so many banks, and that, too, at the expense of the depositors under a system with so many safeguards and restrictions, is an argument from experience against any proposition to issue notes for circulation under any general system, without requiring sufficient security, which cannot easily be answered.

If the public debt is to be paid hereafter as rapidly as during the past three years, all of the interest-bearing bonds will soon be surrendered and canceled, and there is danger that the bank circulation will be so rapidly retired as to cause a contraction of the currency which will affect the price of commodities and create embarrassments in business; but there is now no such pressing necessity for a speedy payment of the public debt as there is for the reduction of the redundant revenue. It is believed that Congress will soon provide for so large a reduction of the revenue that a sufficient amount of bonds will remain for the security of the bank circulation.

The national banks held, on November 1, bonds for circulation, not payable at the pleasure of the government, as follows:

Four and one-half per cent. bonds .....	$33,754,650
Pacific Railway sixes .....	3,526,000
Four per cent. bonds .....	104,917,500
Total .....	142,198,150

None of these bonds will be payable until nine years hence, in the year 1891. The total amount of bonds outstanding, held by the banks and by the people, which are available for circulation, and not payable at the pleasure of the government, and cannot be redeemed except by purchase in the market, is as follows:

Four per cents., payable July 1, 1907.....	$738,929,600
Four and one-half per cents., payable September 1, 1891.....	250,000,000
Pacific Railway sixes, payable September 1, 1895 .....	$3,002,000
Pacific Railway sixes, payable September 1, 1896 .....	8,000,000
Pacific Railway sixes, payable September 1, 1897 .....	9,712,000
Pacific Railway sixes, payable September 1, 1898 .....	29,383,000
Pacific Railway sixes, payable September 1, 1899 .....	*14,526,512
	64,623,512
	1,053,553,112

These bonds, including the Pacific sixes, amount to nearly 1,054 millions, and are abundantly sufficient as a basis for banking during the next twenty years. In fact, one-fourth of this debt, exclusive of the 142 millions held by the banks, is sufficient to supply a basis for the bank notes now outstanding. The law provides that any bank may reduce the amount of its bonds held as security for circulation, to an amount not less than $50,000, and, by an act of the present Congress, banks having a capital of $150,000 or less can reduce their bonds to a minimum of one-fourth of their capital. The aggregate amount of bank circulation outstanding has not been reduced for a series of years, as may be seen from the following table, which gives the total amount of the national bank circulation outstanding on the 1st of June and 1st of November of each year since 1873:

*$483,512 of this amount is payable in 1900, and $4,680 in 1902.

The above table exhibits the total circulation actually outstanding, which includes the notes of the insolvent banks, of those in voluntary liquidation, and of those which have deposited lawful money for the purpose of reducing their circulation.

The circulation of the banks in operation during the present year has, however, by the payment of the bonds held as security and the voluntary retirement of bank notes, been reduced from $320,200,069 to $314,721,215, as will be seen from the table below, which gives, by geographical divisions, the amount of notes outstanding of the banks in operation in the month of October yearly since 1877.

The reduction from January 1 to July 1 of the present year was still greater, and amounted to more than 16 millions, but the amount has again increased, as is usual in the fall season of the year. Banks, during the year, have been frequently called upon to surrender their bonds to the Secretary for payment. In such cases the three and the three and one-half per cents have usually been substituted or the circulation surrendered. The amount of four and four and one-half per cents held as security for bank notes have, however, during the year increased more than 14 millions.

The banks hold, as has been seen, 220 millions of dollars of United States bonds which are subject to the call of the government, and these bonds can be replaced only by other bonds bearing a high premium, and payable after a fixed date. If these latter bonds are not substituted for the former, the circulation of the banks will be reduced about 200 millions.

The profit upon circulation upon the four and four and a half per cent. bonds, where the rate of interest is six per cent., is not much in excess of three-fifths of one per cent., and where the rates of interest are above eight per cent. the profits are nominal, and are not sufficient to induce the banks to purchase large amounts as security for circulation. Where the profits are so small there is a serious objection to the investment of so large an amount of capital in premium, which, in the case of four per cent. bonds, amounts to one-fifth of the face value of the bonds.

If the whole public debt were reduced to a uniform rate of three per cent., the present high premium upon bonds would almost entirely disappear, and the volume of circulation would respond more readily to the demands of business. The temptation to sell such bonds for the purpose of realizing the premium would no longer remain. A proposition for refunding all the bonds, not payable at the pleasure of the government, into three per cents. was suggested during the last session of Congress. The proposition is that inducements be offered to the holders of the four and four and one-half per cent. bonds to surrender them to the government, receiving in payment therefor three per cent. bonds having the same dates of maturity as the bonds which are to be surrendered. The new three per cent. bonds issued would themselves bear a small premium, and it is believed that the holders of four per cents. would consent to such an exchange if accompanied by an offer of not more than fifteen per cent. premium. The amount of the premium upon this class of bonds, say 700 millions, now outstanding at fifteen per cent. would be 105 millions of dollars, and this premium could be paid, as the bonds are surrendered for exchange, from the surplus revenue of the government, thus in effect reducing the debt of the government 105 millions by a prepayment of interest which must be paid at a greater rate each year until their maturity.

The benefits of this plan both to the holder and to the government are apparent. The holders would receive, in the shape of fifteen per cent. premium upon the bonds, a portion of their interest in advance, which would be available for loans at rates greatly exceeding the borrowing power of the government, which is now less than three per cent. The government would be enabled by this use of its surplus to save a portion of the interest which otherwise it would be compelled to pay hereafter.

The market price of the four per cent. twenty-five-year bonds is now 119.20, which indicates a market estimate of a borrowing rate of interest of 2.92 per cent. per annum to the government. At this rate the present value of one per cent. of interest upon each $100 bond annually for twenty-five years, relinquished by the holder, is $17.70. If the holder accepts fifteen dollars as an equivalent for these twenty-five annual payments, instead of $17.70—a reduction of $2.70 from the market estimate of the value—the government will practically purchase from the holder of the bond at a four and one-half per cent. rate of interest instead of at 2.92 per cent. In other words, the present value of the twenty-five one dollar annual payments relinquished by the holder, when computed at the rate of 2.92 per cent. per annum, is worth $17.70; but computed at the rate of four and one-half per cent. is worth only $15, a premium which, it is believed, the holders would be willing to accept; and if the government be able to invest its surplus revenue at a rate so favorable to itself as four and one-half per cent., there would seem to be good reason for Congress to provide the necessary legislation for authorizing an arrangement which can also be shown to be of advantage to the holders of the four per cent. bonds.

One alternative would be to reduce the tax upon circulation to one-half of one per cent. per annum, and another to amend section 12 of the act of July 12, 1882, so as to authorize the banks to receive circulation at the rate of ninety per cent. upon the average current market value of the bonds for the six months previous. If the bonds shall decline in the market, additional bonds may be required to be deposited, or the interest may be retained by the Treasurer upon notice from the Comptroller to make up the deficiency. Such an amendment has frequently been suggested, and, in fact, the original national bank act authorized the issue of circulating notes to the amount of 90 per centum of the current market value of United States six per cent. bonds deposited, provided that such 90 per centum was not in excess of the amount of the bonds at their par value, or in excess of the paid-in capital stock. That law also provided for the deposit of additional bonds or money upon their depreciation, or the suspension of payment of interest upon the bonds held, so long as the depreciation should continue.

It is submitted that the issue of circulation upon four and four and a half per cents at ninety per cent. upon their current market value, under a restriction similar to that last mentioned, is equally safe with the issue of ninety per cent. upon the three per cents now outstanding at par; or that a reduction of the tax upon circulation to one-half of one per cent., or to an amount sufficient to reimburse the Treasury for the whole expense of the issue of bank circulation and all expenses incident thereto, is not unreasonable in view of the fact of the large reduction upon the income derived from United States bonds, amounting to more than two per cent. since this tax was imposed.

Either of these plans is feasible and would prevent a sudden contraction of the currency, by bringing into possession of the banks a sufficient amount of bonds to supply the circulation which is needed, and is certainly greatly to be preferred to the propositions for a large increase in legal-tender notes—if such issues were practicable—or to the issue of bank circulation without a deposit of bond security under restrictions however stringent.

If, however, it shall be the policy of the government to accumulate the revenue instead of largely reducing it, thus rendering it necessary to continue the rapid reduction of the debt even if it is to be purchased at the price fixed by the holders, it is of the greatest importance that the basis upon which the bank currency is issued should be enlarged so as to include some other form of security besides government credit.

The national banking system has been in operation nearly twenty years, and may be said to have not yet attained its majority. It is part of the machinery of the government. Its advantages have been well tested in good and in evil times, and during the searching and acrimonious discussions of the last ten years, the final result of which has been the legislation of the present Congress authorizing the extension of the period of succession of each one of these institutions for twenty years from the date of the expiration of its corporate existence. The Comptroller, while he believes it is for the best interests of the government to continue the national banking system, subject to such improvements as shall hereafter be authorized by Congress, is after all of opinion that it would be better that the circulation should diminish in volume, than that the issue should be increased at the risk of placing in the hands of the poorer classes uncurrent and irredeemable circulation, or of giving to associations organized by unscrupulous men an opportunity to use an excellent system of banking for bad purposes.

The national banking system was established with a view to uproot other and evil systems, and nothing but the heroic legislation of taxing bad issues of circulation out of existence, which was passed in the interests of the government during a great war, could have accomplished this purpose. By increasing the rate of issue upon the bonds pledged by the banks as security for their circulation, or by reducing the tax upon bank notes, or by a proper refunding of the debt, and reducing the revenue derived in many instances from unjust and burdensome taxation, the system may continue for twenty-five years, or until the maturity of the four per cents; but it is far better that the right to issue notes should be gradually discontinued than that so good a system should be used to bring again upon the country the very evils which were experienced at the time of its organization, twenty years ago.

DISTRIBUTION OF COIN AND PAPER CURRENCY.

In the reports of the Comptroller for the three years preceding 1882, tables have been given showing the amount of coin and currency, and its distribution in the Treasury, in the banks, and in the hands of the people on January 1, 1879, the date of the resumption of specie payments, and on November 1 of that and each succeeding year. These tables are again presented, the amounts on November 1, 1882, having been added.

From November 1, 1881, to November 1, 1882, the production of gold by the mines of the United States is estimated at $43,359,021, and the amount of gold exported from the country, in excess of the amount imported, has been $36,122,536. The difference, $7,236,485, is the increase during the year. The Director of the Mint estimates that $2,700,000 of this amount has been used in the arts, leaving $4,536,485 as the increase in the stock of gold remaining in the country and available for circulation. The total excess of imports of gold over exports, from the date of resumption to November 1, 1882, has been $161,311,578, and the total gold product of the mines of the United States for the same period is estimated to have been $147,509,021. This is the first year since 1879 during which the exportation of gold has exceeded the importation. During the last two months (September and October, 1882) the imports have, however, slightly exceeded the exports.

The amount of standard silver dollars coined during the year has been $27,657,175, and the total amount coined up to November 1, 1882, since the passage of the law of February 28, 1878, authorizing their coinage, has been $128,329,880.

The following table shows the amount of coin and currency in the country on January 1, 1879, and on November 1 of the years 1879, 1880, 1881, and 1882:

There has been no change in the aggregate of legal-tender notes outstanding, which remains as fixed by the act of May 31, 1878. National-bank notes have increased $2,383,497 during the year; the amounts of gold and silver coin have increased $4,536,485 and $26,280,970, respectively, making a total increase in coin and currency of $33,206,952.

The table below gives the portion of coin and currency held by the United States Treasury, and by the national and State banks. The amounts in the Treasury are for the same dates as in the preceding

If the amounts of gold and silver coin and of currency in the above table—that is, the amounts of these items in the Treasury and the banks—be deducted in each case from the amounts of gold and silver coin and currency in the country, as shown in the first table, the remainder will be, approximately, the amounts which are in the hands of the people, as follows:

	January 1, 1879.	November 1, 1879.	November 1, 1880.	November 1, 1881.	November 1, 1882.

The gold in the Treasury, including bullion in the process of coinage, has decreased during the year $19,346,436, and in the banks $15,103,846. The paper currency in the Treasury has increased $3,449,418, and in the banks $17,557,650. The increase of gold outside of the Treasury and the banks has been $38,986,757, and the decrease of paper currency, exclusive of silver certificates, $18,617,671. In the foregoing tables the silver certificates issued by the Treasury have not been included, but the standard silver dollars held for their redemption on presentation form a portion of the silver coin in the Treasury. The silver certificates in the hands of the people and the banks, at dates corresponding with those given in the preceding tables, were as follows:

January 1, 1879 .....	$413, 360
November 1, 1879 .....	1, 604, 370
November 1, 1880 .....	19, 780, 240
November 1, 1881 .....	58, 838, 770
November 1, 1882 .....	65, 620, 450

It will be seen that the amount of these certificates in circulation has increased only $6,781,680 during the past year, and if this whole increase were held outside of the banks, it would not offset the decrease of $18,617,671 in other forms of paper currency in the hands of the people, for which coin has been substituted.

As before stated, the total amount of standard silver dollars coined up to November 1, 1882, was $128,329,880, of which, as shown in one of the foregoing tables, $92,414,977 was then in the Treasury, although an amount equal to $65,620,450 was represented by certificates in the hands of the people and the banks, leaving $26,794,527 belonging to the Treasury. Of the $128,329,880 coined, $35,914,903 was therefore circulating outside of the Treasury in the form of coin, and $65,620,450 in the form of certificates. The remainder of the silver, $83,994,455, consisted of subsidiary coin, trade dollars, and bullion, of which $30,761,935 was in the Treasury, and $53,232,520 was in use in place of the paper fractional currency for which it was substituted, as against $55,955,398 similarly employed on November 1, 1881. The increase of gold and silver coin and paper currency, outside of the Treasury, since the date of resumption is thus estimated to have been $289,964,414, and the increase during the year ending November 1, $18,336,612; or, if the amount of silver certificates in circulation be added, the total increase since resumption would be $355,172,504, and during the past year, $25,118,292.

ILLEGAL CERTIFICATION OF CHECKS.

The practice of certifying checks had been in use for more than thirty years, previous to the organization of the national banking system, and at least twenty years previous to the establishment of the clearing house.

In the beginning, this certification was not considered as legally binding the bank to pay the check. For many years it had little significance other than as giving clerical information, and the amount of the check, when certified, was not charged to the account of the drawer until it was afterwards presented for payment. Subsequently, after the year 1854, when the clearing house was organized, it became the custom to present checks, and also bills receivable or acceptances on the day of maturity at the bank where they were made payable for certification. The bills and checks which were certified, were then returned to the bank messenger who had presented them, and on the following morning were transmitted to the clearing house with other exchanges.

The certification consisted of the signature of the paying teller, written across the face of the paper inside of a stamp bearing the date of the certification and the title of the bank. This form of certification was regarded as a legal obligation of the bank, and the amount of the check was charged to the account of the drawer at the date of the certification. If the maker or acceptor of notes or bills was in good standing at the bank at which it was made payable, such bills were not unfrequently certified, even if the full amount was not to the credit of the account to which it was subsequently charged. Bills or checks are usually presented for certification during the first business hours of the day, and the deposits of merchants and brokers are not usually made until the later hours of the day. The officers of the bank, who know the usual habits of their dealers in making their deposits, as well as their responsibility, do not hesitate to assume the payment of checks or drafts which they feel assured will be provided for before the exchanges of the clearing house are received. If these certifications were confined to mercantile and commercial transactions, little objection would have been raised to the practice, and it is not probable that there would have been any legislation prohibiting it. It would certainly seem to be advisable to leave to the discretion of a bank the right to accept bills drawn by correspondents at a distance, or by merchants at home, whose standing is beyond question, and whose deficiency in the account is known to arise from delay in receiving remittances or making deposits. A refusal to certify or pay under such circumstances would be likely to subject the bank to the loss of the accounts of its most valuable dealers.

Such legitimate certifications in mercantile or commercial transactions are for comparatively small amounts, and would not attract attention as a large item in the abstracts of the condition of the banks in the city of New York, to which this practice is chiefly confined.

The large use of these instruments by which the banks in effect guarantee the contracts of stock-brokers with their customers has grown to be a great abuse during the past few years, and cannot be defended upon any correct principle of banking. This business is chiefly done by nine or ten national banks, although other banks, organized under State laws as well as national, certify similar checks for considerable amounts.

Section 5208 of the Revised Statutes makes it—

Unlawful for any officer, clerk or agent of any national banking association to certify any check drawn upon the association, unless the person or company drawing the check has on deposit with the association, at the time such check is certified, an amount of money equal to the amount specified in such check.

There are many methods of evading this law. If certification is required in excess of the amount on deposit a demand note is made, and the amount thereof is entered to the credit of the broker desiring the accommodation; or his check upon another bank is received without certification, and a temporary credit entered upon his account, and these temporary credits are canceled at the close of business when the account has been made good. Brokers asking for such over-certifications keep large balances to their credit, on which the bank pays no interest. Certification is made without charge, the bank receiving its compensation in the large deposits which stand to the credit of the broker. The banks justify the practice upon the ground that it is of great convenience to the community, and that stock transactions, particularly, could not be carried on without some such arrangement. They insist that for many years only trifling losses have arisen from the practice—very much less than the losses incurred by them in ordinary discounts.

Section 13 of the act of July 12, 1882, provides :

That any officer, clerk, or agent of any national-banking association who shall willfully violate the provisions of an act entitled "An act in reference to certifying checks by national banks," approved March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, being section fifty-two hundred and eight of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or who shall resort to any device, or receive any fictitious obligation, direct or collateral, in order to evade the provisions thereof, or who shall certify checks before the amount thereof shall have been regularly entered to the credit of the dealer upon the books of the banking association, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof in any circuit or district court of the United States, be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Previous to the passage of this act those national banks which are accustomed to make large advances to brokers for stock transactions certified checks for large amounts under evasions of the law, or such arrangements or agreements as were deemed by them not to be in conflict with section 5208 of the Revised Statutes. The latter act seems to have been passed for the purpose of preventing the evasions of the previous law to which reference has been made. The language of the section is: "Or who shall resort to any device or receive any fictitious obligation, direct or collateral, in order to evade the provisions thereof."

Since the passage of this act the banks have accepted checks which have been drawn upon them instead of certifying them, and have assumed that such acceptance is not in violation of law. In some cases these acceptances are made payable through the clearing house, the effect of which form of acceptance is that such checks are payable upon the following day; in other cases the acceptance is made without any condition as to the mode of its payment. The banks claim that they have power to accept checks under the third and seventh paragraphs of section 5136 of the Revised Statutes. The former authorizes national banks "to make contracts," and the latter provides for the "exercise of all such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking." It is also claimed that section 5209 of the Revised Statutes, which provides that it shall be a misdemeanor for an officer of a bank to make acceptances without proper authority, by implication authorizes acceptances to be made with the authority of the directors, and that the act of July 12, 1882, does not, in plain terms, prohibit such acceptance. The Comptroller being in doubt in reference to the proper construction of the section, prepared a letter containing the following questions, which, at his request, was submitted by the Secretary to the Attorney-General for his opinion:

Has a national bank the legal right to accept checks drawn upon it, unless the drawer has the amount stated in the check actually on deposit in the bank?

If a national bank has the power to make such an acceptance, would such acceptance at a time when the money was not on deposit to the credit of the drawer be a liability to it for money borrowed, and as such be required to be limited to one-tenth of the paid-in capital of the bank, as provided by section 5200 United States Revised Statutes?

If a national bank has the power to accept such checks equal in amount in any one case to one-tenth of its capital, would the acceptance of any number of checks to an amount exceeding, in the aggregate, the amount of its paid-in capital be in violation of section 5202 United States Revised Statutes?

The violation of section 5208, Revised Statutes, subjected a national bank to the appointment of a receiver. The law was not mandatory, and the appointment was left to the judgment and discretion of the Comptroller. The proper ground for the appointment of a receiver is insolvency, and it may be questioned whether the responsibility for taking a bank from the control of its owners should be exercised in other cases than insolvency until the question of violation of law shall have been brought before the courts for determination. No appointments of receivers have ever been made since the organization of the national banking system, except in cases of insolvency, although two large banks which had previously been found to be insolvent, were placed in charge of a receiver for illegal certification of checks.

XXVIII REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

The passage of the act of March 3, 1869 (section 5208, Revised Statutes), and the examinations which followed, had the effect to check and diminish the practice of certification. The practice has, however, greatly increased during the last three years, and the returns of the banks for October 3, the date of their last statement, discloses the fact that the amount of certificates or acceptances made on that day was nearly one-third greater than for a corresponding date in the year previous; and that the amount of acceptances for stock-brokers of nine national banks on that day was more than nine times the aggregate capital stock of those banks, as may be seen from the following table, which exhibits the amount of capital and certified checks or acceptances outstanding of all the national banks of New York City for corresponding dates from 1875 to 1882 inclusive, and like information in reference to nine national banks for the same dates.

The penalty for the violation of section 13 of the act of July 12, 1882, is a fine of not more than $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, upon conviction thereof in any circuit or district court of the United States; and the penalty for the violation of other laws relating to the national banks where the penalty is not specified is the forfeiture of the rights, privileges, and franchises of an association, to be determined and adjudged by a proper circuit, district, or Territorial court of the United States.

The Attorney-General, in answer to the questions submitted to him, has returned an opinion, in which he says:

These provisions together [section 5208 Revised Statutes, and section 13 of the act of July 12, 1882] prohibit the certification of a check drawn upon a national bank, where, at the time of certification, the drawer has not on deposit with the bank, and regularly entered to his credit on its books, an amount of money equal to the amount of the check.

What, then, is certification of a check? It is an act on the part of the bank upon which the check is drawn, implying (as is observed by the Supreme Court in the case of Merchants' Bank v. State Bank, 10 Wall., 604). "That the check is drawn upon sufficient funds in the hands of the drawee, that they have been set apart for its satisfaction, and that they shall be so applied whenever the check is presented for payment. It is an undertaking that the check is good then and shall continue good, and this agreement is as binding on the bank as its notes of circulation, a certificate of deposit payable to the order of the depositor, or any other obligation it can assume."

No particular form is required for the certification. Ordinarily this is done by simply writing the word "good" upon the face of the check, adding thereto the signature or initials of the certifying officer. But any language employed by such officer, importing that the check is good and will be paid, would seem to be sufficient. (See 2 Daniel on Neg. Inst., Sec. 1606.)

A check being an order for the payment of money addressed to a bank or banker, it is always presumed to be drawn against funds on deposit therewith. It is not, when considered with reference to its purpose, presentable for acceptance, but only for payment—that is to say, payment is the only acceptance which in contemplation of law enters into the engagement of the parties. Hence, if the payee or holder of the check presents it with the view of having it certified, instead of paid, he does so at the peril of discharging the drawer. (First Nat. Bank v. Leach, 52 N. Y., 353.)

In Security Bank v. National Bank, (67 N. Y., 462), the court says: "The manifest object of a certification is to indicate the assent of the certifying bank to the request of the drawer of the check that the drawer will pay to the holder the sum mentioned; and this is what an acceptor does by his acceptance of a bill." Whether such assent is indicated by writing the word "good" or the word "accepted" upon the check can make no difference as between the holder of the check and the bank, the obligation assumed by the latter is precisely the same in either case; and thus the legal effect of marking a check "accepted" being the same as marking it "good," the employment of the former expression may, equally with that of the other, well be deemed to import a certification thereof. Agreeably to this view, the acceptance of a check, other than for immediate payment, is not legally distinguishable from its certification. In fact and effect the words are equivalents; they are for the same forbidden purpose to produce the same forbidden results.

The aim of the statute, in prohibiting the certification of checks by national banks where the amount thereof is not on deposit to the credit of the drawer, is obviously to provide a guard against the risks and evils attending such pledging of their credit without adequate security. The mischief sought to be avoided is the incurring of liabilities by these banks on checks drawn upon them without sufficient funds; and inasmuch as the liability is the same whether the check be marked by the bank "accepted" or simply "good," either of these modes of incurring it would seem to be sufficient to bring the case within the prohibition referred to. Each may properly be regarded as constituting a certification, according to the meaning and intent of the statute. To construe otherwise would be to allow a "device" to "evade the provision" of the law, and such, too, as by express terms is prohibited and punished.

In answer to the first question I accordingly reply that in my opinion a national bank cannot legally accept checks drawn upon it, where the drawer has not on deposit therewith the amount stated in the check.

To do so renders the bank subject to certain proceedings on the part of the Comptroller of the Currency (under section 5234, R. S.), and the officer by whom the acceptance is made becomes liable to the penalties provided in the act of July 12, 1882.

The case presented in the second question is not, in my opinion, covered by the provisions of section 5200 Revised Statutes.

The restriction then applies only to liabilities "for money borrowed." The acceptance of a check, where the drawer has no funds on deposit, would be a loan of the credit of the bank, rather than a loan of money, and, if otherwise unobjectionable, it could not properly be regarded as within the terms of the restriction adverted to.

The third question presents the same case in connection with section 5202, Revised Statutes, which declares that "no association shall at any time be indebted or in any way liable to an amount exceeding the amount of its capital stock actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise," except on account of demands of the nature therein described. Liabilities incurred by the acceptance of checks, the drawers thereof having at the time no funds on deposit with the bank, do not appear to fall within any of the exceptions enumerated; and assuming such acceptance to be lawful, I am of the opinion that the limit imposed by section 5202 extends to liabilities thus incurred, and that the acceptance of checks by a bank, without the existence of funds on deposit therewith, to an amount exceeding in the aggregate the amount of its paid-in capital, would be a violation of that section.

Under this opinion of the Attorney-General it will be the duty of the Comptroller to bring such evidence as he can obtain by frequent examinations to the attention of the proper officers, in order that such violation may be determined by the courts, and the penalty enforced as provided by the statute.

THE AMOUNT OF THE INTEREST-BEARING FUNDED DEBT OF THE UNITED STATES, AND THE AMOUNT HELD BY THE NATIONAL BANKS.

The report for 1881 contained tables exhibiting a classification of the interest-bearing debt of the United States, and of the bonds held by the national banks for a series of years. These tables are again presented, and now exhibit also the amount of the outstanding bonds of the government, and the amount held by the banks on November 1st of the present year.

The most important operations of the Secretary of the Treasury, during the years which followed the close of the war, were the funding of large amounts of temporary obligations then outstanding of the government chiefly into six per cent. bonds.

The six per cent. bonds were gradually reduced during the year 1869, and the seven years following, by payment and refunding, into five per cents. The six per cents, together with the five per cents, were subsequently rapidly replaced by four and a half and four per cents, which were authorized to be issued by the act of July 14, 1870. In the year 1881 all of the unredeemed five and six per cent. bonds, amounting to $579,560,050, were continued, payable at the pleasure of the government, with interest at three and one-half per cent., by agreement with the holders, and since that time $164,833,200 of these three and one-half per cent. bonds have been paid, and during the present year $259,370,500 have been replaced by three per cents, under the act of June 12, 1882.

The following table exhibits the classification of the unmatured interest-bearing bonded debt of the United States* on August 31, 1865, when the public debt reached its maximum, and on the 1st day of July of each year thereafter, together with the amount outstanding on November 1 of the present year:

The operations of the Treasury Department for a series of years have largely reduced the amount of interest receivable by the national banks on the bonds held by them. During the present year, ending November 1, the three and one-half per cents have been reduced more than two hundred millions ($200,769,200), and $179,685,550 of three per cents have been deposited in place thereof.

Sixteen years ago the banks had on deposit as security for circulation, 327 millions in United States bonds, of which amount 241 millions bore interest at six per cent. and 86 millions at five per cent. These bonds have now entirely disappeared from the list of securities held by the national banks. The average rate of interest now paid by the United States on the bonds deposited as security for circulating notes is about 3.5 per cent. upon their par value; but is equal to about 3.26 per cent. only of the current market value of the bonds. The banks now hold 33 millions of four and one-halves; nearly 105 millions of fours; 40 millions of three and one-half per cents converted from five and six per cents, and 179 millions of three per cents, which have been refunded from three and one-half per cents, during the present year. This will be seen from the following table, which exhibits the amount and classes of United States bonds owned by the banks, including those pledged as security for circulation and for public deposits on the first day of July in each year since 1865, and upon November 1 of the present year.

AMOUNT OF UNITED STATES BONDS HELD BY THE NATIONAL BANKS, BY BANKS ORGANIZED UNDER STATE LAWS, AND BY PRIVATE BANKERS.

The amounts of United States bonds held by the national banks on November 1, 1880, 1881, and 1882, were, respectively, $403,369,350, $426,120,950, and $396,528,400.

In the following table these amounts have been combined with the average amount of United States bonds held by the savings banks, State banks and trust companies, and private bankers of the country during the six months ending May 31 of the same years:

XXXII REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

The interest-bearing funded debt of the United States was, on November 1 last, $1,418,080,200. The total amount of bonds held by all the banks and bankers in the country as given above was $675,168,457, which is not greatly less than one-half of the interest-bearing debt. The amounts for the banks other than national have been obtained from the semi-annual reports made by them to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, for purposes of taxation. The table given below has also been compiled from these reports, and shows, by geographical divisions, the average amount invested by State banks, private bankers, trust companies, and savings banks in United States bonds, for the six months ending May 31 for the four years named :

The above table gives the average amount of capital invested in United States bonds, from which should be deducted the amount of premium paid at the time of purchase, which cannot be ascertained.

Through the courtesy of State officers the Comptroller has obtained the official reports made to them, under State laws, by State banks in twenty-one States, by trust companies in five States, and by savings banks in fifteen States, at different dates during the year 1882, and from these returns the following table has been compiled :

Held by State banks in twenty-one States.....	$8,739,172
Held by trust companies in five States.....	16,934,812
Held by savings banks in fifteen States.....	237,786,442

The amount held by geographical divisions during the years 1880, 1881, and 1882, was as follows :

The amounts of United States bonds held, as shown by the tables compiled from returns made by State banks, trust companies, and savings banks to State officers, in twenty-one States and Territories were, in 1882, $16,650,531 less than the average amount shown by the table compiled from the reports made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which were received from similar institutions.

The first-named table shows the actual amounts held at various dates in 1882, while the last gives the average amount held for the six months ending May 30, 1882. Although obtained from different sources and based on data that are not equally complete, the amounts obtained from the one source serve to corroborate those obtained from the other.

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES.

Three national banks have been placed in the hands of receivers during the year ending November 1, 1882, namely: The Mechanics' National Bank of Newark, N. J., on November 2, 1881; the Pacific National Bank of Boston, Mass., on May 22, 1882, and the First National Bank of Buffalo, N. Y., on April 22, 1882. The suspension of the first-named two banks was mentioned in the report of the Comptroller for the year ending November 1, 1881, and the causes which led to both these failures were then fully discussed. The directors of the Pacific National Bank of Boston undertook to make good the impairment of its capital stock in the manner authorized by section 5205 of the Revised Statutes, but, as they failed to do so within the time fixed by law, a receiver was appointed to take charge of its affairs. The failure of the First National Bank of Buffalo was the result of the misappropriation of its funds by its president. Its condition was discovered by the bank examiner when making his annual examination, and a receiver was appointed as before stated.

The affairs of ten national banks have been finally closed within the year. These banks, with the total dividend paid by each to their creditors, are as follows:

The First National Bank of Selma, Ala.....	46.6 per cent.
The First National Bank of New Orleans, La.....	79.0 per cent.
The National Bank of Vicksburg, Miss.....	49.2 per cent.
The Ocean National Bank of New York City.....	100.0 per cent. and interest.
The First National Bank of Carlisle, Pa.....	73.5 per cent.
The First National Bank of La Crosse, Wis.....	48.4 per cent.
The First National Bank of Wichita, Kans.....	70.0 per cent.
The First National Bank of Greenfield, Ohio.....	27.0 per cent.
The First National Bank of Tarrytown, N. Y.....	90.5 per cent.
The First National Bank of Meadville, Pa.....	100.0 per cent. and interest.

The following banks have been closed, with the exception of litigation pending in the courts, and the expenses of the receiverships, including the amounts paid to receivers for personal services, are in each case no more than is necessary to carry on the suits. In each of these instances, if litigation results favorably to the banks, some additional dividends may be paid.

The dividends already paid to the creditors of these associations are as follows:

	Per cent.
The Charlottesville National Bank, Charlottesville, Va.....	62
The First National Bank of Norfolk, Va.....	49
The First National Bank of Anderson, Ind.....	25
The Venango National Bank of Franklin, Pa.....	15
The Atlantic National Bank, of New York City.....	95
The First National Bank of Mansfield, Ohio.....	45
The Miners' National Bank of Georgetown, Colo.....	65
The First National Bank of Bedford, Iowa.....	12.5
The City National Bank of Chicago, Ill.....	77
The First National Bank of Georgetown, Colo.....	22.5
The First National Bank of Dallas, Tex.....	37
The Central National Bank of Chicago, Ill.....	60
The People's National Bank of Helena, Mont.....	40
The First National Bank of Allentown, Pa.....	70
The First National Bank of Waynesburg, Pa.....	40

If the litigation now in progress should result favorably, it is estimated that additional dividends will be paid as follows: To the creditors of the First National Bank, Waynesburg, 25 per cent.; of the First National Bank, Allentown, Pa., and First National Bank, Georgetown, Col., 20 per cent.; the First National Bank of Mansfield, Ohio, and Miners' National Bank of Georgetown, Col., 10 per cent., and to the remaining banks, dividends less than 5 per cent.

The affairs of the Cook County and Scandinavian National Banks of Chicago, and of the National Bank of the State of Missouri of Saint Louis also, cannot be closed until pending litigation is brought to a conclusion. The latter bank has already paid to its creditors 100 per cent. of the principal of their claims, and more than 50 per cent. of interest accrued up to December 1, 1882. It is expected that a considerable portion, though not the whole, of the remaining interest will hereafter be paid.

The First National Bank of New Orleans has been closed during the year. The payment of a final dividend had been necessarily postponed on account of delay experienced in adjusting accounts due to and from the government, but which have during the year been finally settled by an appropriation by Congress resulting in a recovery by the bank of $94,000. The three following banks have paid their creditors the full amount of their claims, principal and interest, and their affairs are still in the hands of receivers appointed by the Comptroller, who are administering the remaining assets in the interest of the stockholders:

First National Bank of Newark, N. J.....	100 per cent. and interest in full.
First National Bank of Brattleboro, Vt.....	100 per cent. and interest in full.
Third National Bank of Chicago, Ill.....	100 per cent. and interest in full.

¶ It is probable that in each of these cases the shareholders will eventually receive a handsome percentage upon the capital stock of the bank. The following banks in the hands of receivers have paid dividends during the past year. The total dividends up to November 1, 1882, being also given.

Since the commencement of the national banking system 87 banks have been placed in the hands of receivers, and 420 banks have voluntarily closed their business by the votes of shareholders owning two-thirds of their stock, under the provisions of sections 5220 and 5221 of the Revised Statutes of the United States. Of the banks so placed in voluntary liquidation by their stockholders, 7 failed to pay their depositors, and in these cases receivers were appointed by the Comptroller to wind up their affairs. Of the 87 banks placed in the hands of receivers, 51 have been finally closed, leaving 36 still in process of settlement. The loss to creditors of national banks which have been placed in the hands of receivers during the nearly twenty years that have elapsed since the passage of the act of February 25, 1863, as near as can be estimated, including dividends which will probably be hereafter paid, has been about $7,000,000. The average annual loss has been, therefore, about $400,000 in the business of corporations having an average capital of about $450,000,000, and which have been responsible for the safe keeping of deposits in their hands averaging constantly over $800,000,000, or about one-twentieth of one per cent. of annual loss to depositors. The time required for liquidating the affairs of insolvent banks depends chiefly upon the amount of litigation which may arise, as in any case it is impossible to tell in advance what questions it may become necessary to refer to the courts for decision. In many of these cases no conclusion can be reached until the matter has been brought before the courts of last resort. The dockets of the supreme courts in most of the States, and that of the Supreme Court of the United States, are crowded, and when an appeal is made to these tribunals, years often elapse before the case can be reached. Owing, however, to the decisions already made, the forms of procedure, under the laws governing national banks, are better understood, and in collecting assets, in allowing offsets, and enforcing the liabilities of stockholders, there is now no inducement to protract litigation, either on the part of the ordinary debtors of the bank or of the stockholders who become such debtors when assessed under their liability, as provided in section 5151 of the Revised Statutes. In all cases of failure of national banks there are many claims presented to the receivers which, for various reasons, do not appear to be properly liabilities of the association, and it is necessary, in order to protect the interests of the genuine creditors, that such claims should be rejected until their merits have been properly investigated by a court of competent jurisdiction.

The liability of directors for negligent discharge of their duties, or for malfeasance, is not yet clearly defined by any authoritative decision, but such decisions as there are bearing upon this matter point to a complete remedy against them also. The total amount paid to creditors of insolvent national banks amounts to $20,945,090; upon proved claims amounting to $29,586,558. The dividends so far paid thus equal about 70 per cent. of the proved claims. The amount paid during the year was $2,283,392.

Assessments amounting to $8,101,750 have been made upon the stockholders of insolvent national banks for the purpose of enforcing their individual liability under section 5151 of the Revised Statutes, of which about $3,200,000 have been collected and $534,080.70 during the past year.

A table showing the national banks which have been placed in the hands of receivers, the amount of their capital, of claims proved, the rates of dividends paid, and also showing the amount of circulation of such banks issued, redeemed, and outstanding, will be found in the Appendix.

The attention of Congress has previously been called to section 5200 of the Revised Statutes, which places restrictions upon loans, and to the difficulty of enforcing its provisions. In cities where large amounts of produce are received and stored, it is represented that it is impossible for the banks to transact this class of business, if restricted to loans for an amount not exceeding in any instance one-tenth of their capital. It is true that the limitation does not apply to loans upon produce in transit, where the drafts are drawn on existing values; but if produce is stored, instead of being shipped, large loans cannot be made except in violation of law. In such case the Comptroller has no means of enforcing the law, except by bringing a suit for forfeiture of charter, and this course might result in great embarrassment to business, as well as loss to many innocent stockholders of the banks. It is evident that the law should be so amended as to exclude from the limitation mentioned legitimate loans upon produce or warehouse receipts, and some other classes of collateral security, as well as loans upon United States bonds.

The national banks held silver coin amounting, on October 1, 1877, to $3,700,703, and on October 1, 1878, to $5,392,628. On October 2, 1879, the amount held was $4,986,493, and on October 1, 1880, it was $6,495,477, including $1,165,120 in silver treasury certificates, and on October 3, 1882, it was $8,273,815, including $1,807,600 of silver certificates. On October 1, of the present year, the official reports of the State banks in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Louisiana, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, and Minnesota show that these banks then held specie amounting to $7,140,867, of which the banks in New York City held $3,484,913. The official returns from the State banks of California do not give separately the amount of coin held by them; but it is estimated that of the total cash reported, amounting to $10,542,859, $10,060,622 consisted of coin. The amount of coin held by State banks in the States before mentioned, including California, was, therefore, $17,201,489.

The Director of the Mint, in his report for 1881, estimates the amount of coin in the country on June 30, 1880, at $501,555,711, of which $358,958,691 was gold and $142,597,020 was silver. His estimate for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, is as follows:

United States coin.	Gold.	Silver.	Total.

From July 1, 1882, to November 1, the Director estimates that there was added to the coin $15,306,491 of gold and $8,738,472 of silver, making the stock of coin in the country at the latter date $724,500,508, of which $516,188,676 was gold and $208,311,832 was silver.

The amount of bullion in the mint and in the New York assay office on November 1 is stated to have been $50,916,780 of gold and $4,012,503 of silver, making in all $54,929,283; which, added to the estimated amount of coin stated above, gives $779,429,791, of which amount $567,105,456 was gold and $212,324,335 was silver.

The following table shows the amount of gold and silver, including the amount held to protect gold and silver certificates, and the percentage of each, in the Treasury of the United States, on September 30 of each year from 1876 to 1882, and on November 1, 1882:

TRANSACTIONS OF THE NEW YORK CLEARING HOUSE.

The New York Clearing House Association is composed of forty-seven national and fourteen State banks, and the assistant treasurer of the United States at New York.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. A. Camp, its manager, a statement of the transactions during the year ending October 1, 1882, has been obtained, which shows that the total exchanges were more than forty-six thousand millions of dollars, while the balances paid in money were nearly 1,600 millions. The daily average balances paid were somewhat more than $5,000,000, or about 3.4 per cent. of the amount of the settlements. The balances paid in money during the year consisted of $1,325,990,000 in clearing house certificates of the Bank of America, legal tenders amounting to $10,220,245, and $258,550,000 in gold coin, weighing 476½ tons. If, instead of gold coin, silver had been used, the weight would have been nearly 8,000 tons. Since the date of the issue of the new gold certificates (October 4), authorized by the act of July 12, 1882, the balances due from the government have been paid in these

CLEARING-HOUSE CERTIFICATES.

Section 5192 Revised Statutes provides that clearing-house certificates, representing specie or lawful money specially deposited for the purposes of any clearing-house association, shall also be deemed to be lawful money in the possession of any association belonging to such clearing-house holding and owning such certificate; and section 5193 provides that the Secretary of the Treasury may receive United States notes on deposit, without interest, from any national banking association, in sums not less than ten thousand dollars, and issue certificates therefor in denominations of not less than five thousand dollars, which certificates may be counted as part of the lawful-money reserve, and may be accepted in the settlement of clearing-house balances at the places where the deposits therefor were made.

The legal-tender note certificates were first issued in the fiscal year 1873. On June 30, 1875, there were outstanding $59,045,000 of these certificates, of which the national banks held $47,310,000. On June 30, 1876, the amount outstanding was $33,140,000, of which the banks held $27,955,000. On June 30, 1879, the amount had been reduced to $29,330,000, and the banks held on June 14 of the same year, $25,180,000. The amount outstanding on October 3, 1882, was $10,725,000, and the national banks held on that day, $8,645,000.

The issue of the gold certificates was authorized by the fifth section of the act of March 3, 1863, and they were used for clearing-house purposes soon after the passage of the national bank act. The first issue was made on November 13, 1865. On June 30, 1875, there were outstanding $21,796,300, of which the national banks in New York City held $12,642,180. The issue of these certificates was discontinued on December 1, 1878, and the amount outstanding had decreased on June 30, 1879, to $15,413,700, and on October 1, 1880, to $7,480,100. The amount outstanding on October 3, was $4,907,440, of which the national banks held $4,594,300. The issue of gold certificates having been discontinued by the government, and the amount of gold coin having rapidly increased, the banks in New York found it necessary to establish a depository of gold coin for the convenience of the clearing-house. This depository at the present time is the Bank of America, by which bank certificates of deposit were first issued on October 14, 1879. The amount of such certificates outstanding on November 1, 1882, was $26,390,000; on January 1, 1880, $25,610,000. The largest amount of coin on deposit, during the year, was on January 21, 1882, viz, $45,330,000, the capacity of the vault having been increased since 1880. The national banks of New York City held on July 1, 1882, $34,486,000; on October 3, $41,132,000.

The act of February 28, 1878, authorized any holder of silver dollars of the weight of 412½ grains troy of standard silver, to deposit the same with the Treasurer, or any assistant treasurer, of the United States, in sums not less than ten dollars, and receive therefor certificates of not less than ten dollars each, corresponding with the denominations of the United States notes. It required that the coin deposited, or representing the certificates, should be retained in the Treasury for the payment of the same on demand, and that said certificates should be receivable for customs, taxes, and all public dues, and also authorized their reissue. This act did not authorize their use as clearing-house certificates, nor make them available as reserve for the national banks.

The act of July 12, 1882, authorized and directed the Secretary of the Treasury to receive deposits of gold coin in denominations of not less than $20 each, corresponding with the denominations of United States notes. The coin deposited for the certificates is required to be retained for the payment of the same on demand, and these certificates, and also silver certificates, are authorized to be counted as part of the lawful reserve of the national banks.

The act also provides that—

No national banking association shall be a member of any clearing house in which such certificates shall not be receivable in the settlement of clearing-house balances.

The amount of silver certificates outstanding on November 1 was $65,620,450. The amount of gold certificates which had been issued under this act on November 1, 1882, was $21,790,000.

STATE BANKS, TRUST COMPANIES, AND SAVINGS BANKS.

The act of Congress of February 19, 1873, section 333 of the United States Revised Statutes, requires the Comptroller to obtain from authentic sources, and report to Congress, statements, exhibiting under appropriate heads, the resources and liabilities of such banks and savings banks as are organized under the laws of the several States and Territories. In compliance with this act, he has presented annually in the appendices to his reports, the resources and liabilities of these corporations, so far as it has been possible to obtain them. Through the courtesy of State officers, returns of State banks, savings banks, and trust and loan companies have, during the past year, been received from twenty-three States. Many of the States and Territories, including Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Dakota, Oregon, Virginia, and Tennessee do not require periodical returns of the condition of the different classes of banks organized under their laws.

From these returns, the following abstract has been compiled, showing the resources and liabilities of State banks and trust companies for the last three years, the number reporting in 1880 being 650; in 1881, 683, and in 1882, 704.

The foregoing table was prepared from returns from all the New England States, except Maine; from four Middle States, not including Delaware, and from all the Western States, excepting Illinois, Kansas, and Nebraska. The only Southern States from which reports have been received were South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Texas, and Kentucky. The only Pacific State is California. There no are State banks in Maine, but one in New Hampshire, six in Vermont, and none in Massachusetts. There are, however, six trust and loan companies in the latter State, one in Rhode Island, and seven in Connecticut.

The foregoing table includes the returns from the six New England States, from four Middle States, not including Delaware, from the States of Ohio, Indiana, California, and the District of Columbia. The aggregate of loans in the New England States is $252,010,803, and of deposits, $430,233,402. In the Middle States the aggregate of loans is $145,099,593, and of deposits, $469,058,085.

Some of the largest savings banks in the city of Philadelphia, organized under old charters, are not required to make reports to any State officer. Returns received directly from four of these banks, having deposits amounting to $29,913,605, are included in the returns from the State of Pennsylvania.

The savings-banks deposits, given in the foregoing table for 1882, based upon reports made to State authorities, are $966,797,081, and the deposits of the State banks and trust companies were $426,677,092. These returns do not include bank deposits. The deposits of the national banks on October 3, 1882, exclusive of those due to banks, were $1,138,071,777. These deposits of the national banks bear to those of the savings banks the proportion, nearly, of 55 to 45; to those of the State banks and trust companies the proportion of 73 to 27; and to the combined deposits of both, the proportion of 45 to 55.

The total population of New England, according to the census of 1880, was 4,010,529, and the number of open-deposit accounts of the savings banks in the year 1882 is 1,294,859, which is equal to 32.3 accounts to each one hundred of the entire population. The average amount of each account is $332.26, and if the total deposits were divided among the entire population, the average sum of $107.27 could be given to each individual.

The deposits of the savings banks in the State of New York were $387,832,893, while the population is 5,082,871, showing that an equal distribution of the savings-banks deposits among the entire population of the State would give $76.30 to each individual. Tables showing the aggregate resources and liabilities of State banks, trust companies, and savings banks in each State, from which returns have been received from the State authorities appear in the Appendix.

A table is also there given showing by States the number of savings-bank depositors and the average amount due to each in 1881 and 1882.

PRIVATE BANKERS.

In the Appendix will be found three comprehensive tables of two pages each, giving by geographical divisions, and by States, Territories, and principal cities, the number of State banks, savings banks, trust and loan companies, and private bankers of the country, for the present and two previous years, together with the amount of their capital and deposits, and the amount of their capital invested by them in United States bonds. The first official information of this character ever published in regard to the private bankers of the country was contained in a table in the Comptroller's report for 1880. The following information in reference to the private bankers in sixteen of the principal cities has been compiled from the table in the Appendix for the year 1882:

The total number of private bankers in the foregoing cities is 796, with an aggregate capital of $74,440,599, and aggregate deposits of $109,741,746; the average capital being $93,518, and the average deposits $137,867. About 68 per cent. of these private banks are located in New York City, representing more than two-thirds of the aggregate capital and over one-half of the aggregate deposits. In the city of New York the average amount of capital is $96,370 and deposits $105,157 for each private banker; and the bankers in that city also held $7,846,422 of United States bonds, or nearly one-half of the amount of such bonds held by all of the private bankers of the country.

The following table gives similar information for the thirty-three States and Territories, exclusive of the cities in the above table, having an amount of capital in excess of $100,000. In this table the number of private bankers is 2,530; the aggregate amount of capital, $39,287,623, and of deposits $181,970,664, the average capital being $15,529, and the average deposits $71,925.

The remaining thirteen States and Territories, not enumerated in the above table, contain 65 private bankers, with an aggregate capital of $527,670, and aggregate deposits of $3,909,750. Massachusetts has only three private bankers, outside the city of Boston, with an aggregate capital of $64,167, and aggregate deposits of $618,206. Maryland has but two private bankers outside of the city of Baltimore. The State of Maine has ten private bankers, North Carolina but four, New Hampshire two, New Jersey four, Delaware and Vermont only one each, and Arizona eleven. The average amount of capital held by each of these 65 private bankers is $8,511, and of deposits $63,060.

The following table shows, by geographical divisions, the number of private bankers in the United States, with the aggregate amount of their capital, deposits, and investments in United States bonds, for the six months ending May 31, 1882:

The table below is a recapitulation of the foregoing, showing by groups the aggregates for the bankers in the sixteen principal cities, in the thirty-three States and Territories having a private banking capital in excess of $100,000, and in the thirteen remaining States and Territories, for the last year:

SECURITY FOR CIRCULATING NOTES.

During previous years there have been many changes in the classes of United States bonds held by the national banks as security for their circulation, owing to the payment or refunding or extension of the different issues of five and six per cent. bonds bearing interest at four and one-half, four, three and one-half, and three per cent. During the present year 259 millions of three and one-half per cent. bonds, held by the banks, which were extended from five or six per cent. bonds in the year 1881, have been changed into three per cent. bonds. The amount of United States bonds held by the Treasurer as security for the circulating notes of the national banks on the first day of November, 1882, is exhibited in the following table:

Class of bonds.	Authorizing act.	Rate of interest.	Amount.
		Per cent.
Funded loan of 1881 (5's, interest ceased) .....	July 14, 1870, and January 20, 1871..	.....	$15, 000
Funded loan of 1891 .....	do.....	4½	33, 754, 650

Loan of 1863 continued (81's) .....	March 3, 1863 .....	3½	1, 351, 700
Funded loan of 1881 continued .....	July 14, 1870, and January 20, 1871..	3½	38, 505, 750
Funded loan of July 12, 1882 .....	July 12, 1882 .....	3	179, 675, 550
Pacific Railway bonds .....	July 1, 1862, and July 2, 1864.....	6	3, 526, 000
Total.....	.....	.....	362, 505, 650

During the year 1871, and previous thereto, a large portion of the bonds bore interest at the rate of six per cent., and until the year 1877 all of the bonds bore interest at either five or six per cent. The five or six per cent. bonds, in the year 1881, entirely disappeared from the list of these securities, with the exception of three and a half million of Pacific sixes.

At the present time more than eleven per cent. of the amount, pledged for circulation, consists of bonds bearing interest at three and a half per cent. only, and nearly fifty per cent. of them bear interest at three per cent., and the remainder, with the exception of three and one-half millions of Pacifics, bear interest at the rate of four and four and a half per cent.

COUNTERFEIT AND UNSIGNED NATIONAL-BANK NOTES.

Section 5 of the act of June 30, 1876, provides—

That all United States officers, charged with the receipt or disbursement of public moneys, and all officers of national banks, shall stamp or write in plain letters the word "counterfeit," "altered" or "worthless," upon all fraudulent notes issued in the form of, and intended to circulate as money, which shall be presented at their place of business, and if such officers shall wrongfully stamp any genuine note of the United States, or of the national banks, they shall, upon presentation, redeem such notes at the face value thereof.

This section makes it the duty, not only of every officer of the United States charged with the receipt or disbursement of public moneys, but also of all officers of the national banks, to stamp every fraudulent note which shall be presented at their counters, in such a manner as shall thereafter prevent its circulation.

There is no doubt that there has been great neglect on the part of national bank officers to comply with this law. The number of counterfeit national bank notes which have been issued is very small in proportion to the number issued previous to the establishment of the national banking system, but the number in circulation has largely increased during the last few years, probably owing to the fact that the bank notes which are presented at the counters of the banks, and which are known to be fraudulent, are not immediately stamped "counterfeit," "altered," or "worthless," as required by law. If a genuine note is wrongfully stamped, the officer thus stamping it can immediately obtain a genuine note in exchange by forwarding the same to the Treasurer for redemption, so that there is no risk whatever on the part of the officers of national banks, even if they should wrongfully stamp a genuine note.

Section 5172 of the Revised Statutes provides that national bank notes shall express upon their face the promise of the association issuing the same to pay on demand, attested by the signatures of the president or vice-president and cashier, and section 5182 of the Revised Statutes provides, that after any association receiving circulating notes has caused its promise to pay such notes on demand to be signed by the president or vice-president and cashier thereof, in such manner as to make them obligatory promissory notes, payable on demand at its place of business, such association may issue and circulate the same as money.

There can be no doubt as to the meaning and intention of these sections. The law requires that national bank notes shall be signed by the president or vice-president and cashier, before they are placed in circulation, and every bank issuing notes, not thus signed by these officers, subjects itself to a forfeiture of its charter. Notwithstanding this plain provision of law, various banks have issued their notes with printed signatures, and in some cases with lithographic signatures, which are so badly executed as to excite suspicion as to the genuineness of the notes. The written signature of the officers of the bank are necessary as an additional precaution against counterfeiting. The signature of at least one bank officer is necessary as a check between this office and the issuing bank, for if the question of an overissue of notes should arise, the signature of such officer would, without question, determine the genuineness of the note.

A bill is now pending in Congress, imposing a fine of twenty dollars for every circulating note issued by any national bank without the written signature thereon of at least one of its officers.

National bank notes, with new designs, are now being rapidly issued to banks whose corporate existence has been extended, and to other national banks which are being organized, and it is important that these new notes should not be issued unless signed by the officers in accordance with law. The Comptroller respectfully repeats his previous recommendations for the passage of the act referred to, which act should also impose a penalty upon any engraver or lithographer who shall print the signature of bank officers upon such notes.

TAXATION.

In previous reports the repeal of the law imposing a tax upon bank capital and deposits, and of the two-cent stamp tax on checks, has been recommended as a measure of justice to the banks, and as a benefit to the people, and to the manufacturing and commercial interests of the country. During the last session of Congress a bill including a provision for repealing these taxes was passed by the House by a vote of 127 to 79. The debate in the Senate, as well as some votes on preliminary questions, showed that if a vote upon the bill had been reached it would have become a law. The force of the reasons heretofore urged for the repeal of these taxes is as great as ever. The revenue still continues in excess of the amount required for the expenses of the government, including interest on the public debt which is being rapidly reduced; and the taxes imposed upon banking capital by the government, State, and municipal authorities are larger than during any previous year. The Comptroller presents, herewith, a table which gives, for the year 1881, the amount of the banking capital invested in national banks, and the amount and rates of United States and State taxes paid by the national banks in every State and principal city in the Union.

It will be seen that the per centage of State taxation during the year 1881 varies from 1.3 per cent. in the Southern States to 1.9 per cent. in the Middle and Western States, and that the average percentage throughout the United States remains the same as it was during the year 1880, but has increased one-tenth of one per cent. as compared with that paid during the year 1879. The total of United States and State taxes paid by national banks to capital is 3.7 per cent. during the year 1881, having increased one-tenth of one per cent. over those paid in 1880, and one-half of one per cent. over those paid during the year 1879.

The rates of United States taxation are the same in all sections of the country. The inequality in the percentages of United States taxes to capital arises from the fact that while the United States tax is imposed on the three items of capital, deposits, and circulation, the percentages given in the tables are those of the total tax derived from these three sources to capital only. Where the deposits are large in proportion to capital, the proportion of the United States tax, as measured by capital, appears greater. The first table given below shows the percentages to capital of taxation paid by the banks in the principal cities of the country. Particular attention is called to the inequality in State taxation shown by it. The second table gives the States in which the taxes, United States and State, are most excessive.

The uniform rates of United States taxes are annually one per cent. upon their notes in circulation; one-half of one per cent. upon their deposits, and the same rate upon the average amount of their capital, in excess of that invested by them in United States bonds. These taxes are paid semi-annually by the national banks to the Treasurer of the United States, and subject the government to no expense for their collection.

The whole cost of the national banking system to the government, from the date of its establishment in 1883, has been $5,366,908; on the other hand, the government has, in about twenty years, collected taxes upon the capital, circulation, and deposits of national banks at the rates heretofore specified, amounting, as may be seen by the following table, to $118,005,706.25:

The tax imposed upon banks other than national is collected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The rates upon capital and deposits are the same as in the case of the national banks. A tax of ten per cent. is imposed, under section 3412 of the Revised Statutes, on the use, in payments, of notes issued by any banks other than national. This tax has the effect of preventing the issue of circulating notes by State banks. The table below gives the taxes collected annually by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue during the years from 1864 to

This table shows that the percentages to capital of taxes have never been less than three per cent. annually, and that during the last four years given there has been an increase in the rate from 3.1 per cent. to 3.7 per cent. It is probable that the rates of State taxation paid by banks, other than national, do not vary much from the rate of those paid by the national banks, although in many of the States, the laws relative to the assessment of taxes upon bank capital have, heretofore, somewhat discriminated against national banks. The repeal of the law imposing the government taxes will still leave the banks subject to a burden of taxation by the different States much greater than that imposed by them upon any other kind of capital, and this repeal is again urgently recommended. The reduction of the annual rate of the tax on circulation to one-half of one per cent. is also recommended for reasons given in another portion of this report.

DECISIONS RELATIVE TO STATE TAXATION OF NATIONAL BANK SHARES.

In the last annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency reference was made to the decision of the United States circuit court of the northern district of the State of New York, in the case of the National Albany Exchange Bank vs. Charles A. Hills et al., supervisors of Albany County, New York, namely, that the law of the State of New York under which taxes had been assessed for fourteen years upon bank shares was void and invalid, for the reason that this act did not permit the owners of national bank shares to reduce the assessment by the amount of their debts, while owners of other moneyed capital possessed that privilege. The circuit court rendered a judgment in favor of Stanley, the assignee and representative of the stockholders of the National Albany Exchange Bank, for taxes previously exacted and paid. The supervisors appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States. The decision of the latter court was rendered April 3, 1882, and reversed the decision of the circuit court in the case of all except one of the stockholders represented by Stanley.

The court said:

The question here to be decided arises under two statutes of the State of New York in regard to taxation. The first of these is the act of 1850, relating to the assessment and collection of taxes in the city of Albany. The sixth section of the act requires the board of assessors to prepare an assessment roll, in which there shall be set opposite the name of each tax-payer (1) all his real estate liable to taxation, and its value; (2) the full value of all his personal property, after deducting the just debts owing by him. Section 9 of the act is as follows: "If any person shall at any time before the assessors shall have completed their assessments make affidavit that the value of his real estate does not exceed a certain sum, to be specified in such affidavit, or that the value of the personal estate owned by him, after deducting his just debts and his property invested in the stock of any corporation or association liable to be taxed therefor, does not exceed a certain sum, to be specified in the affidavit, it shall be the duty of the board of assessors to value such real or personal estate, or both, as the case may be, at the sum specified in such affidavit, and no more."

In 1866 the State enacted a law concerning the taxation of bank shares, which was evidently intended to meet the requirements of the act of Congress in relation to State taxation of the shares of national banks, and the provision of this statute relates only to taxing stockholders in banks, and to the capital invested in individual banks. The first section of this act reads as follows, and it contains no other provisions for deductions as the basis of taxation, except what is found in this section:

"No tax shall hereafter be assessed upon the capital of any bank or banking association organized under the authority of this State or of the United States, but the stockholders in such banks and banking associations shall be assessed and taxed on the value of their shares of stock therein," &c.

In the case of People v. Dolan (36 N. Y., 59) the question was whether, taking the two statutes together, an owner of shares of stock was entitled to deduct from the assessed value of his shares the just debts due him. * * * The court of appeals decided that no such deduction should be made under the law of 1866. In the case of Williams v. Weaver, Williams had made the affidavit required by section 9 of the act of 1850, and demanded a deduction of the assessors, which they refused. The case was taken to the court of appeals, which reaffirmed the principles held in the case of People v. Dolan. The Williams case coming to the United States Supreme Court by writ of error, it was held that while we are bound to accept the decision of the highest court of the State in construction of its own statute, the act of 1866 as thus construed was in that particular in conflict with the act of Congress, because it did tax shares of the national banks at a higher rate than other moneyed capital in the State. * * * Accepting, therefore, as we must, the act of 1866, as construed by the court of appeals of New York, as not authorizing any deduction for debts by a shareholder of a national bank, is it for that reason absolutely void? * * * It would seem that if the act remains a valid rule of assessment for shares of State banks and for individual bankers, it should also remain the rule for shareholders of national banks who have no debts to deduct. * * *

None of the stockholders except Williams made the affidavit required by the act of 1850, showing they had debts to deduct, and therefore in their case the judgment of the circuit court was reversed, and in that of Williams affirmed.

This decision seems to cut off all remedy for taxes already paid by stockholders of Albany national banks who neglected to make the affidavit required under the act of 1850.

In People v. Weaver the Supreme Court pointed out that the method to pursue in cases where the taxation by State authority of shares of national banks was greater than that of other monied capital in the same State, was by enjoining the collection of the excessive taxation. In the case of National Albany Exchange Bank v. Hills, the bank brought, on behalf of its stockholders, a suit to enjoin the collection for taxes assessed but unpaid for the year 1879, and the circuit court of the northern district of New York granted a perpetual injunction. The Supreme Court decided that the injunction was properly granted as to one stockholder, who made affidavit and demand on account of deduction of his debts, but not as to the others, who had made no such affidavit or demand, but in the case of the latter the lower court was directed to permit them to bring their action in an amended form, on the ground that they refrained from making affidavit and demand, because they knew it would have no effect.

In the case of German National Bank of Chicago v. Kimball, appealed to the United States Supreme Court from circuit court for the northern district of Illinois, it was decided that no one can be permitted to go into a court of equity to enjoin the collection of a tax, until he has shown himself entitled to the aid of the court by paying so much of the tax assessed against him as it can be plainly seen he ought to pay, nor should he be permitted, because his tax is in excess of what is just and lawful, to screen himself from paying any tax at all, until the precise amount which he ought to pay, is ascertained by a court of equity.

In the case of Evansville National Bank v. Britton, referred to last year, as decided in the United States circuit court for the district of Indiana, the Supreme Court affirms the decree of the lower court, perpetually enjoining the collector as to those shareholders who at the time of the assessment proved that they owed debts which should rightfully be deducted, and dismissing the bill as to other shareholders.

All of these decisions appear to have grown out of matters pending when the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of People v. Weaver was rendered. It is probable that in most States the legislatures will so modify their laws taxing bank shares as hereafter to conform with the principles laid down in that decision; but these supplementary decisions are valuable in that they point out a mode of action in all cases where discrimination in any form is made in assessing or collecting taxes on national bank shares. The party aggrieved must clearly state the amount of the excessive taxation, pay what is justly due, and enjoin the collection of the remainder. In stating the amount believed to be unjustly demanded, strict regard must be had to the forms required by the State laws in force in the place where the bank is located. While the Supreme Court of the United States is extremely careful not unnecessarily to interfere with the effect of State legislation in the taxation of national bank shares, it upholds the rights of individuals under Federal laws when actions based on equitable grounds are brought in a proper manner.

In New York City it is claimed that under the act now in force in the State, taxing national and other bank shares, which permits the deduction of debts, there is still great discrimination in the valuation of bank shares as compared with the valuation of other personal property and real estate.

In the appendix may be found tables exhibiting the amount of dividends and earnings of the national banks, arranged by geographical divisions, for semi-annual periods from September 1, 1882; also an abstract of reports of dividends and earnings for the two semi-annual periods of the present year, and a table, by States and reserve cities, of the ratios to capital and to combined capital and surplus of the dividends and earnings from March 1, 1877, to September 1, 1882.

LOSSES.

During the year ending September, 1882, losses in their business on every account, including losses on technical bad debts, under section 5204 of the Revised Statutes, and premiums on United States bonds, have been charged off by the national banks, amounting to $11,324,912.93. Of this sum $4,963,155.22 was charged off during the six months ending March 1, 1882, and $6,361,757.71 during the six months ending September 1, 1882.

The following table shows the number of banks charging off these losses and the amount charged off in each State and reserve city in the United States for the semi-annual periods named above.

The total losses charged off in each of the five preceding years are added to this table. A considerable portion of these technical losses have already been collected, and other large amounts will undoubtedly be hereafter recovered. Full tables for the six preceding years may be found in the appendix.

The following table gives the losses for the last six years of the national banks located in each geographical division of the United States. The number of banks reporting losses and the total losses for five years are also shown in this table.

Of the losses exhibited by the foregoing tables, $2,025,502 was on account of premiums on United States bonds charged off. The high premiums upon the United States bonds not subject to redemption at the option of the government, compel those organizing new national banks to invest a portion of their capital in a premium account. As the premium may entirely disappear at the maturity of the bonds it has been a requirement of this office that a portion of such premium account shall be charged to undivided profits each half year before the declaration of a dividend until the whole account shall have disappeared. It is, of course, possible that many of these amounts charged off, either on account of premiums or on account of technical bad debts, may eventually be realized by the bank. The bank may close and withdraw and sell its bonds while they yet command a premium. Debts, though technically bad on account of interest remaining due and unpaid over six months, may nevertheless be afterwards paid. These recovered losses are included in the profits of each half year. Banks holding 4 per cent. bonds have been instructed to charge off each year one-twentieth part of the premium paid thereon, and counted as an asset; those holding 4½ per cent. bonds have been instructed to similarly charge off one-tenth of the premium, and those holding Pacific Railroad sixes to charge off one-fifteenth. The charges in each case were to be made previous to the semi-annual declaration of a dividend, and at no time is the amount of premium counted as an asset to exceed the current market premium on the bonds held.

In the following table the losses charged off by the national banks in the principal cities of the country are given for each of the years covered by the preceding tables, with the total for the period.

SURPLUS.

In the following table is exhibited the gradual accumulation of a surplus fund under the provisions of section 5199, requiring each association, before the declaration of the semi-annual dividend, to carry to surplus one-tenth of its net profits for the preceding half year, until such fund shall amount to 20 per cent. of its capital.

Practically the law requires that the surplus fund of each bank shall at all times equal an amount equal to one-tenth of its total net earnings since it commenced business. Many of the banks accumulate the fund much faster than this, and some pass dividends for the purpose of doing so. Some do not stop at the twenty per cent. limit named in section 5199, but continue to increase their surplus until the latter is often greater than the capital stock. As the fund is very rarely diminished except for such extraordinary losses as cannot be met out of current profits, it, together with the capital, constitutes the working fund of the bank by the use of which dividends are earned. Bearing this in mind, it will be seen that the returns made to stockholders of national banks for their investment are not excessive.

In an excellent paper on the national banks of the United States, read before the Banker's Institute of London, England, May 17, 1882, by Mr. Robert W. Barnett, an associate of the Institute, and published in the journal of the Institute for July, 1882, the following comment is made:

“Dividends paid by the banks have, on the whole, been satisfactory ; although, taking into consideration the value of capital in the United States and the general rates of interest prevailing, the average rate of dividends must be pronounced moderate.”

UNITED STATES LEGAL-TENDER NOTES AND NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION.

The acts of February 25, 1862, July 11, 1862, and March 3, 1863, each authorized the issue of 150 millions of dollars of legal-tender notes, making an aggregate of 450 millions of dollars.

On January 30, 1864, the amount of such notes outstanding was $449,338,902, which was the highest amount outstanding at any one time. The act of June 30, 1864, provided that the total amount of United States notes issued, or to be issued, should not exceed 400 millions of dollars, and such additional sum, not exceeding 50 millions, as might be temporarily required for the redemption of temporary loans. By the act of June 20, 1874, the maximum amount was fixed at 382 millions. Section 3, act of January 14, 1875, authorized an increase of the circulation of national banks in accordance with existing law, without respect to the limit previously existing, and required the Secretary of the Treasury to retire legal-tender notes to an amount equal to eighty per cent. of the national-bank notes thereafter issued, until the amount of such legal-tender notes outstanding should be 300 millions, and no more. Under the operation of this act, $35,318,984 of legal-tender notes were retired, leaving the amount in circulation on May 31, 1878, the date of the repeal of the act, $346,681,016, which is the amount now outstanding.

In the following table are given the amount and kinds of the outstanding currency of the United States and of the national banks on January 1 of each year, from 1866 to 1882, and on November 1, 1882, to which is prefixed the amount on August 31, 1865, when the public debt reached its maximum.

Since the passage of this act, $154,424,641 of lawful money have been deposited with the Treasurer by the national banks for the purpose of reducing their circulation, and $120,156,646 of bank notes have been redeemed, destroyed, and retired.

In the following table is shown, by States, the amount of circulation issued and retired during the year ending November 1, 1882, and the total amount issued and retired since June 20, 1874.

The amount of circulation issued to national banks for the year ending November 1, 1882, was $22,464,250, including $6,500,680 issued to banks organized during the year. The amount retired during the year was $19,937,630, and the actual increase for the same period was therefore $2,526,620, making the total on November 1, $361,949,358.

During the year ending November 1, 1882, lawful money to the amount of $26,501,045 was deposited with the Treasurer to retire circulation, of which amount $7,895,754 was deposited by banks in liquidation.

The amount previously deposited under the act of June 20, 1874, was $107,978,052; by banks in liquidation $19,945,544, to which is to be added a balance of $3,813,675 remaining from deposits made by liquidating banks prior to the passage of that act. Deducting from the total the amount of circulating notes redeemed and destroyed without re-issue ($120,156,646), there remained in the hands of the Treasurer, on November 1, 1882, $38,081,670 of lawful money for the redemption and retirement of bank circulation.

NATIONAL BANK AND LEGAL-TENDER NOTES BY DENOMINATIONS.

CIRCULATING NOTES OF THE BANK OF FRANCE AND IMPERIAL BANK OF GERMANY, BY DENOMINATIONS.

In accordance with law, no national-bank notes of a less denomination than five dollars have been issued since January 1, 1879, when the amount outstanding was $7,718,747. Since that date the amount of ones and twos issued by the banks has been reduced $6,778,189, and during the same period the legal-tender notes of these denominations have been increased $12,435,707.

During the last year the amount of national-bank notes of these denominations has decreased nearly one-half, to 940,558, the amount of the decrease being $910,724. The total increase of the amount of ones and twos outstanding, in national-bank and legal-tender notes, is $5,657,518.

The following table shows, by denominations, the amount of national-bank and legal-tender notes outstanding on October 31, 1882, and the aggregate amounts of both kinds of notes at the same period in 1880 and 1881:

The amount of one and two dollar notes outstanding is but one-fourth of one per cent. of the whole circulation of the banks; the fives constitute 26.9 per cent., the tens 34 per cent., the twenties 23.3 per cent., while the fifties and larger notes are only 15.6 per cent. of the entire circulation. While the amount of ones and twos of the national-bank circulation is steadily diminishing, the legal-tender notes of these denominations are as steadily increasing.

Of the entire amount of national-bank and legal-tender notes outstanding, about 7.5 per cent. consists of one and two dollar notes; more than 30.8 per cent. of ones, twos, and fives; more than 58.3 per cent. is in notes of a less denomination than twenty dollars, while about 79.6 per cent. is in notes of a lower denomination than fifty dollars. Of the entire issue about twenty per cent. is in denominations of fifties, one hundreds, five hundreds, and one thousands. There are also outstanding 479 legal-tender notes of the denomination of five thousand, and 23 notes of the denomination of ten thousand.

The following table* exhibits by denominations the circulation of the Imperial Bank of Germany on January 1, 1882, in thalers and marks, which are here converted into our currency :

The circulation of the Imperial Bank of Germany on January 1, 1881, was $201,036,187, showing an increase during the following year of $13,323,563; on January 1, 1879, the circulation was $165,933,942, showing an increase during the three years preceding January 1, 1882, of $48,425,808.

The following table† gives the circulation of the Bank of France and its branches, with the number of pieces, and the denominations in francs and in dollars, on January 26, 1882:

The amount of circulation of the Bank of France on January 27, 1881, was 2,524,081,780 francs, or say $504,816,356, showing an increase between that time and January 26, 1882, the date of the foregoing table, of 328,234,895 francs, or $65,646,979, and since January 30, 1879, an increase of 561,345,845 francs, or $112,269,169.

It will be seen that the Imperial Bank of Germany has in circulation no notes of a less denomination than seven dollars and a half (ten thalers), and issues none of less than twenty-five dollars (one hundred marks); and that the Bank of France issues but little over a million and a quarter of a less denomination than ten dollars. The Bank of England issues no notes of less than £5, or twenty-five dollars, and the Irish and Scotch banks none of less than £1, or five dollars.

REDEMPTION.

Since the passage of the act of June 20, 1874, section 3 of which requires the banks at all times to keep on deposit in the Treasury 5 per centum of their circulation as a redemption fund, that fund as a rule has been maintained, and circulating notes of the banks have been promptly redeemed at the Treasury, without expense to the government.

The following table exhibits the amount of national-bank notes received for redemption monthly by the Comptroller of the Currency for the year ending October 31, 1882, and the amount received for the same period at the redemption agency of the Treasury, together with the total amount received since the passage of the act of June 20, 1874:

From the passage of the act of June 20, 1874, to November 1, 1882, there was received at the redemption agency of the Treasury $1,184,674,058 of national-bank currency for redemption. During the year there was received $84,150,789, of which amount $30,577,000, or about 30.3 per cent., was received from banks in the city of New York, and $8,766,000, or about 10.4 per cent., from banks in the city of Boston. The amount received from Philadelphia was $6,412,000; from Chicago, $4,465,000; Providence, $1,532,000; Baltimore, $1,102,000; Cincinnati, $1,430,000; Saint Louis, $1,201,000; Pittsburgh, $929,000. The amount of notes fit for circulation returned by the redemption agency to the banks of issue during the year was $1,017,100. The decrease in this class of notes has been very marked in the past five years, the amount for the year ending October 31, 1878, having been $151,683,200, or 75.4 per cent. of the whole amount received, and for the year only 4.7 per cent.

The total amount received by the Comptroller of the Currency for destruction from the agency and from national banks direct was $74,995,283. Of this amount $5,820,140 were the issues of banks in the city of New York, $7,287,443 of Boston, $3,104,471 of Philadelphia, $2,359,692 of Providence, $1,170,578 of Baltimore, $1,475,062 of Pittsburgh, $598,100 of Cincinnati, $580,274 of Louisville, $264,530 of Chicago, $159,406 of Saint Louis, $404,969 of New Orleans, and of each of the other principal cities less than $400,000.

The following table exhibits the number and amount of national-bank notes, of each denomination, which have been issued and redeemed since the organization of the system, and the number and amount outstanding on November 1, 1882:

ABATEMENT.

- I. An action brought by a creditor of a national bank is abated by a decree of a district or circuit court dissolving the corporation and forfeiting its franchises. (First National Bank of Selma vs. Colby, 21 Wallace, p. 609.)
- II. Suit by the receiver of the New Orleans National Banking Association (formerly a State organization called the Bank of New Orleans) against a shareholder to enforce his personal liability. Plea in abatement that "at the date of the appointment of said receiver there was not, nor has there since been, nor is there now, any such corporation as said New Orleans National Banking Association, because said Bank of New Orleans had no power by its charter, nor authority otherwise from the State of Louisiana, to change its organization to that of a national association under the laws of the United States."

On general demurrer this plea was held bad, because no authority from the State was necessary to enable the bank to make such change. The option to do so was given by the forty-fourth section of the banking act of Congress, 13 Statutes, 112. "The power there conferred was ample, and its validity cannot be doubted." (Casey, Receiver, &c., vs. Galli, 4 Otto, p. 673.)

This plea was also held bad upon the additional ground that "where a shareholder of a corporation is called upon to respond to a liability as such, and where a party has contracted with a corporation, and is sued on his contract, neither is permitted to deny the existence and legal validity of such corporation." (Ibid.)

"To hold otherwise," says Mr. Justice Swayne (p. 680), "would be contrary to the plainest principles of reason and good faith, and involve a mockery of justice. Parties must take the consequences of the positions they assume." "They are estopped to deny the reality of the state of things which they have made to appear to exist, and upon which others have been led to rely. Sound ethics require that the apparent, in its effects and consequences, should be as if it were real, and the law properly so regards it."

ACCOMMODATION ACCEPTANCES, INDORSEMENTS AND NOTES.

- I. Where bills, indorsed by a national bank for accommodation only, had been negotiated by the bank through its usual channels of communication with its correspondents as its own bills, and the proceeds thereof have been placed to the credit of the bank, which thereupon gave the same credit to the parties for whom it had thus indorsed, and received no benefit therefrom: Held, that although an accommodation indorsement by a national bank, in such cases, was void in the hands of holders against whom notice of the character of the indorsement could be concluded, yet that the bank was liable for the same to holders, for value without notice. (Blair vs. First National Bank of Mansfield, Ohio. United States circuit court for Ohio, at Cleveland November term, 1875, Emmons, J. Reported in Bankers' Magazine for March, 1878, pp. 721-5.)
- II. It is no defense to a suit against the acceptor of a draft which has been discounted, and upon which money has been advanced by plaintiff, that the draft was accepted for the accommodation of the drawer. (Davis vs. Randall, 115 Mass., p. 547.)
- III. A national bank discounted a note made by the defendant for the benefit of the payee, and which the payee agreed to take care of at maturity: Held, that the bank could recover the note although it had, when it took the note, full notice of the circumstances under which it was given. (Thatcher vs. West River National Bank, 19 Mich., p. 196.)
(See, also, Title "EVIDENCE.")

* Many of the decisions cited in this synopsis will be found in "Thompson's National Bank Cases," vols. 1 and 2; but in most instances reference is made to the original report, thus indicating the tribunal by which the point was decided.

ACCOMMODATION ACCEPTANCES, INDORSEMENTS, AND NOTES—Continued.

IV. That the accommodation acceptance, indorsement, bill, or note of a corporation is ultra vires. (See Bank of Genesee vs. Patchin Bank, 13 N. Y., p. 309, and 19 N. Y., p. 312; Bank of Auburn vs. Putnam, jr., 1 Abb. App. Decisions, p. 80; Monfords vs. Farmers & Mechanics' Bank, 26 Barb., p. 568; Farmers & Mechanics' Bank vs. Troy City Bank, 1 Doug. [Mich.], p. 45.)

[NOTE.—In the United States circuit court, western district Virginia Judge Bond has recently decided the cases of Seligman & Co. vs. The Charlottesville National Bank, and Johnston Brothers & Co. against the same bank. The first was an action of covenant upon a letter of credit for £5,000, issued under the seal of the bank, pursuant to a resolution of the board of directors, guaranteeing the drafts of Flannagan & Son to the amount of said letter. The latter was assumpsit upon five bills of exchange for $5,000 each, dated April 16, 1875, each drawn by said Charlottesville Bank upon the Citizens' National Bank of Baltimore, payable to the order of Flannagan & Son, acceptance waived, maturing upon days "fixed" within five days of each other, the first, November 20, and the last, December 10 of same year. Said bills were not drawn against funds due or to become due from the said Citizens' to said Charlottesville Bank, but were a mere loan of the credit of the latter bank (it being without funds) to the said Flannagan & Son, and drawn to be used by the latter, as they were used, as collateral security in part for a loan of $25,000, made by said Johnston Brothers & Co. to said Flannagan & Son. Said plaintiffs took said bills as such collateral security, and with full notice of all the facts aforesaid. Held, I. That said letter of credit and said bills of exchange were only the accommodation paper of said Charlottesville National Bank, and, as such, void in the hands of the plaintiffs, holding with full notice of their character. II. That the incidental powers conferred upon national banks are not such as are conferred upon banks generally, but only such as are necessary to carry on the specific banking business prescribed by the national-bank act. Hence, though such banks may borrow money for certain purposes, they have no power to loan their credit to customers. These cases were reported in the Bankers' Magazine for December, 1879.]

ACTIONS.

- I. A national bank may be sued in the proper State court. (Bank of Bethel vs. Pahquioque Bank, 14 Wall., pp. 383, 395.)
- II. Such banks may sue in Federal courts. The word "by" was omitted in section 57 of act of 1864 by mistake. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., pp. 506-7.)
- III. Receivers may also sue in United States courts. (Ibid.)
- IV. When the full personal liability of shareholders is to be enforced the action must be at law. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., p. 505; see, also, Casey, &c., vs. Galli, supra.)
- V. But if contribution only is sought, the proceedings may be in equity, joining all the shareholders within the jurisdiction of the court. (Ibid., pp. 505-6.) (See, also, Title "SHAREHOLDERS, INDIVIDUAL LIABILITIES OF," VI, post.)
- VI. But in Bailey, Receiver, &c., vs. First National Bank of Duluth, U. S. circuit court for Minnesota, Nelson, J.—Held, that even where less than the par value was assessed the suit might be at law; and this would seem to be the true theory. (See Bankers' Magazine, April, 1877, p. 793.)
[NOTE.—In Stanton, Receiver, &c., vs. Wilkeson, 8 Ben., 357, the point was distinctly made before Judge Blatchford. The suit was brought to enforce an assessment of sixty per centum, and defendant insisted that plaintiff should have proceeded by bill in equity; but the court held that the action at law was the proper remedy, at the option of the receiver.]
- VII. A national bank located in one State may bring action in the circuit court of the United States sitting within another State against a citizen thereof. (Manufacturers' National Bank vs. Baack, 8 Blatch., p. 147.)
- VIII. In such action it will be presumed, so far as the question of jurisdiction is concerned, that the stockholders of such bank are citizens of the State where the bank is located. (Ibid.) But in case of Commercial Bank of Cleveland vs. Simmons, decided in the United States circuit court northern district of Ohio, it was held that a national bank does not sue in the Federal court by virtue of any right conferred by the judiciary act of 1789, but by virtue of the right conferred by its charter, the national-bank act, and this would seem to be the true doctrine. (See Thomp. National Bank Cases, p. 295. Also First National Bank of Omaha vs. County of Douglas, 3 Dillon, p. 298, decided by Mr. Justice Miller, of the United States Supreme Court.)

LXXIV REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

ACTIONS—Continued.

- IX. National banks can be sued only in the courts designated in the national-bank act. Therefore a State court of New York has no jurisdiction of an action against a national bank located in Alabama. (Cadle vs. Tracy, 11 Blatch., p. 101.) To the contrary of this, see Cooke vs. State National Bank, 52 N. Y., p. 96.
- X. Actions in their nature local, in the technical legal meaning of that word, may be brought against a national bank in the State court of the proper county. (Casey vs. Adams, 102 U. S., p. 66.)
(See, also, Title "JURISDICTION," post.)

ATTACHMENTS OF ASSETS.

- I. When a creditor attaches the property of an insolvent national bank, he cannot hold such property against the claim of a receiver appointed after the attachment suit was commenced. Such creditor must share pro rata with all others. (Bank of Selma vs. Colby, 21 Wall., p. 609; see, also, Harvey vs. Allen, 16 Blatchf., p. 29.)
(See, also, Title "JURISDICTION," II, post.)
- II. Section 5242 Revised Statutes United States prohibits the issuing of an attachment against a national bank by any State, county, or municipal court, before final judgment. (Central National Bank vs. Richland National Bank, 52 Howard [N. Y.], p. 136.)
- III. In Robinson vs. National Bank of New Berne, 58 How., p. 306, the court of appeals decides that a State court can issue attachment process against a solvent national bank, located in another State, upon which its funds within the jurisdiction of such court can be seized and subjected to the satisfaction of any claim established by the judgment of such tribunal. But in the supreme court of New York, in Rhoner vs. First National Bank of Allentown, 14 Hun., p. 126, the contrary doctrine is held in accordance with the ruling in Central National Bank vs. Richland National Bank, 52 How., p. 136, heretofore cited.

[NOTE.—It is submitted that the latter is the correct rule. The currency act favors the policy, on the part of country banks, of keeping a large portion of their reserve in certain cities. But if such banks are advised that such reserve funds are there subject, at any moment, to be seized by process of a State court, at the instance or caprice of any resident who may think himself a creditor, such deposits will be made with more or less hesitation, or not at all.]

ATTORNEYS.

- I. Section 56 of the currency act is directory only, and it cannot be objected by defense that a suit is brought by a private attorney instead of the United States district attorney. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., p. 504.)

BY-LAWS.

- I. A national bank cannot by its by-laws create a lien on the shares of a stockholder who is a debtor of the association. (Bullard vs. National Bank, &c., 18 Wall., p. 589.)
(See, also, case of Bank vs. Lanier, 11 Wall., p. 369, cited under "LOANS ON SHARES," post.)

[NOTE.—In Young vs. Fough, 23 N. J. Equity R., p. 325, it was held that a national bank could by its by-laws prohibit the transfer of shares by a shareholder while indebted to the bank, and that transfers in violation of such by-laws were void. As it is held by the Supreme Court of the United States that such by-laws can create no lien for indebtedness, it would seem that a regulation prohibiting such transfers can be of little practical use, even if the power exists.]

CHECKS.

- I. The holder of a check on a national bank cannot sue the bank for refusing payment, in the absence of proof that it was accepted by the bank. (National Bank of the Republic vs. Millard, 10 Wall., p. 452.)
- II. The relation of banker and customer is that of debtor and creditor. Receiving deposits is an important part of the business of banking, but the moment they are received they become the moneys of the bank, may be loaned as a part of its general fund, and the check of the depositor gives no lien upon them. (Ibid., p. 155.)
- III. Perhaps, on proof that check had been charged to the drawer, and that the bank had settled with him on that basis, the holder or payee could recover on account for "money had and received." (Ibid., pp. 155-6.)

CHECKS—Continued.

- IV. The facts that the bank was a United States depository and the check was drawn by a United States officer to a United States creditor do not vary the rule. (Ibid., pp. 155-6.)
- V. Where a bank pays a check drawn on it in favor of a party whose indorsement thereon is forged, and the same has passed through several hands, only reasonable diligence is required to be exercised in giving notice to prior holders of the forgery, after its discovery, in order to hold them liable. (Shraeder vs. Harvey, 75 Ill., p. 638.)
- VI. A clerk of plaintiffs received from their debtors checks, payable to their (plaintiffs') order, in payment of sums due. The clerk, wrongfully and without authority, indorsed the names of the plaintiffs on these checks and transferred them to other persons, appropriating the proceeds to his own use. Subsequently these checks were deposited with a bank, which in good faith collected them and paid over the proceeds to the depositors. In a suit by plaintiffs against the bank to recover the amounts so collected by it: Held, that the bank was liable. (Johnson vs. First National Bank, 13 N. Y. Sup. Court.)
- VII. Bankers are presumed to know the signatures of their customers, and pay checks purporting to be drawn by them, at their peril. (Weisser vs. Dennison, 10 N. Y., p. 68; National Bank of the Commonwealth vs. Grocers' National Bank, 35 Howard [N. Y. Pr.], p. 412.) This last case holds that if the bank, the drawee, pays the forged check to the holder, it cannot recover back the money so paid. The same doctrine was held in case of First National Bank of Quincy vs. Ricker, 71 Ill., p. 439; but qualified by holding that it applied only where the presumed negligence was all on the side of the bank, and where the holder or payee had been guilty of no fraud or act to throw the bank off its guard.
- VIII. CERTIFYING.—National banks have the power to certify checks; and this power may be exercised by the cashier without any special authorization. The directors can limit this power, but such limitation will be no defense as to parties having no notice. (Merchants' National Bank vs. State National Bank, 10 Wall., p. 604.)
- IX. A certificate of a bank that a check is good is equivalent to an acceptance implying that the bank has the funds to pay it, and that they are set apart for that purpose. (Ibid., p. 604.)
- X. A national bank is liable on a check certified by its cashier to the holder in good faith, although the drawer has no funds in the bank when it was certified. (Cooke vs. State National Bank, 52 N. Y., p. 96.)
- XI. The act of Congress of March 3, 1869, making it unlawful for a national bank to certify checks unless the drawer has at the time funds on deposit to an amount equal to the amount specified in the check, does not invalidate a conditional acceptance of a check by such bank, having no funds of the drawer in its hands at the time, but engaging to pay the same when a draft left with it for collection by the drawer shall have been paid. (First National Bank vs. Merchants' National Bank, 7 West Va., p. 544.)
- XII. A bank is liable to pay a subsequent bona fide purchaser the amount of a check which it has certified, notwithstanding the check was fraudulently raised, if before certification, from a smaller amount. (Louisiana National Bank vs. Citizens' Bank, 28 La. Annual, p. 189.)
- XIII. When a bank was chargeable with negligence in certifying a check, which was so drawn as to admit of a fraudulent alteration of the amount being easily made, and the check was raised: Held, that the bank was liable to a bona fide holder, for value, for the increased amount. (Helwege vs. Hibernia National Bank, 28 La. Annual, p. 520.)
- [NOTE.—As the above case unquestionably declares the true rule of law, prudence would seem to dictate that cashiers should always insist upon such filling up of checks as to render alteration impracticable, before certifying.]
- XIV. A certified check is not deemed dishonored by delay between its date and the time when it is sold to a bona fide purchaser, for value, so that the latter takes it as overdue, and subject to equities; because, by certifying, the bank becomes the principal debtor, and liable indefinitely, like an acceptor of a bill of exchange. Hence, one who in good faith, and after making reasonable inquiry, bought a certified check, three or four months after its date, which had been stolen, was held entitled to recover its amount. (Nolan vs. The Bank of New York, 67 Barb., p. 24.)

CHECKS—Continued.

- XV. A check contained on its face this recital: "To hold as collateral for 1,000 P. T. Oil, pipage paid to Jan. 4, 1876"; across its face the cashier wrote, "Good when properly indorsed." Held, that the check was not drawn in usual course of banking business, and therefore the certificate of the cashier did not bind the bank. (Dorsey vs. Abrams et al., bankers, 85 Pa., p. 299. See, further, as to liability on checks, certified or otherwise, Dodge vs. National Exchange Bank, 30 O., p. 1; Security Bank vs. National Bank of the Republic, 67 N. Y., p. 458; Andrews vs. German National Bank, 9 Heisk. [Tenn.], p. 211.)

CIRCULATION.

The circulating notes of a national bank are valid without the imprint of the seal of United States Treasury. U. S. v. Bennett, 17 Blatchf., 357.

CITIZENSHIP.

- I. National banks are citizens of the State in which they are organized and located, and when sued by national banks of other States have a right to demand a removal of the suit from a State to the proper Federal court. (Chatham National Bank vs. Merchants' National Bank, 4 Thompson & Cook, N. Y. Sup. C., p. 196, and 1 Hunter [N. Y.], p. 702; Davis vs. Cook, 9 Nevada, p. 134.)
(See also Title "ACTIONS" V and VI, supra.)
- II. A national bank, being a citizen of the State in which it is located, may be required to give security for costs when suing in another State; and in the State of New York such security may be required, because the bank is regarded as a corporation created by a foreign State. (National Park Bank vs. Gunst, 1 Abbott's New Cases, p. 292.)

COLLECTIONS.

- I. A bank receiving paper for collection undertakes to use due diligence in making demand at maturity, and giving the proper notices of non-payment. An unreasonable delay will charge the bank with liability for the amount; and proof that the paper would not have been paid, if presented, will constitute no defense. (Bank of Washington vs. Triplett, 1 Peters, p. 25; Bank of New Hanover vs. Kenner, 76 N. C., p. 340; Steele vs. Russell, 5 Nebr., p. 211; Capital State Bank vs. Lane, 52 Miss., p. 677; Fabens vs. Mercantile Bank, 23 Pick. [Mass.], p. 320.)
- II. And if the bank receiving paper for collection, upon a sufficient consideration, transmits it to another bank to be collected, the receiving bank will be liable for the misconduct of such other bank, unless there is some agreement to the contrary. (Montgomery County Bank vs. Albany City Bank, 7 N. Y., p. 459; Commercial Bank vs. Union Bank, 11 N. Y., p. 203; Kent vs. Dawson, 13 Blatchf., p. 237; First National Bank vs. First National Bank of Denver, 4 Dill., p. 290.)
- III. A bank received a check upon itself for collection, being at the same time a large creditor of the drawer, and failed, without excuse, to notify the depositor of the non-payment of the check: Held that the bank was chargeable for the negligence. (Bank of New Hanover vs. Kenner, supra.)
- IV. A bank holding a check for collection, and accepting the certification of the bank upon which it is drawn, in lieu of payment, assumes the risk and thereby becomes liable to the owner for the amount, with interest from date of certification. (Essex County National Bank vs. Bank of Montreal, 7 Bissell, p. 193.)
- V. The Corn Exchange National Bank of Chicago sent defendant, the Dawson Bank, at Wilmington, N. C., a draft drawn upon one Wiswall, living at Washington, N. C., for collection. Defendant by letter acknowledged the receipt of the draft, stating that it had been credited to the Corn Exchange Bank, and entered for collection. Thereupon defendant sent draft to Burbank & Gallagher, bankers at Washington, N. C., for collection. The latter house collected the draft, but failed and passed into bankruptcy before remitting. In a suit brought by the assignee of the Corn Exchange National Bank against the Dawson Bank to recover the proceeds of the draft: Held, per Wallace, J., that the latter bank was liable for the amount. (Kent assignee, vs. The Dawson Bank, 13 Blatchf., p. 237.)

[NOTE.—The court concedes that the authorities are conflicting upon the point involved in this case. In New York, Ohio, and in England, the decisions sustain the conclusions of Judge Wallace, while in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Illinois, and Pennsylvania precisely the contrary rule prevails. The point was made in this case that the law of Illinois should control the rights of parties, but it was held otherwise.]

COLLECTIONS—Continued.

- VI. In an action by G against a bank it appeared that a note was made to G's order, indorsed by him, and sent through the house of B, a banker, for collection, and by B indorsed to the defendant bank, "for collection and credit": Held, that B, by the indorsement, did not become the owner of the note, and had no right to pledge it, or direct its proceeds to be credited to him in payment of his indebtedness to the defendant bank. (First National Bank vs. Gregg, 79 Pa., p. 384.)
- VII. In such case, if the defendant bank had made advances, or given new credit to B on the faith of the note, it would have been entitled to retain the amount out of the proceeds. (Ibid.)
- VIII. A bank holding a customer's demand note has a lien upon the proceeds or drafts delivered to it for collection, after the giving of the note, though collected after the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, and can apply such proceeds upon the notes. (Re Farnsworth, 5 Bliss., p. 223.)
- IX. A collection agent who receives from his principal a bill of lading of merchandise, deliverable to order, and attaches to it a time draft, may, in the absence of special instructions, deliver the bill of lading to the drawee of the draft, upon the latter's acceptance of the draft. It is not the duty of the agent to hold the bill after such acceptance. (National Bank of Commerce vs. Merchant's National Bank, 1 Otto, p. 92.)
- X. Woolen & Co., bankers at Indianapolis, sent to defendant, a bank at Buffalo, a draft on one Bugbee; also bills of lading for sundry car-loads of lumber. The remittance was by letter, which merely stated that the draft and bills were sent to defendant for collection and remittance of proceeds to plaintiffs, Woolen & Co. The draft was drawn by, and to the order of, Coder & Co., indorsed by them, by Mayhew, and the plaintiffs. By the terms of the draft the drawer, indorsers, and acceptor waived presentment for payment and notice of protest and non-payment. It was payable fifteen days after its date, and it was admitted that by ordinary course of transit the lumber would reach its destination eight days prior to the maturity of the draft. There had been no business transactions between plaintiffs and defendants, save one collection similar to this. Defendants presented the draft to Bugbee for acceptance, and upon such acceptance delivered to him the bills of lading. Bugbee failed before the draft matured, and plaintiffs sued defendants for delivering the bills of lading to Bugbee before payment of the draft. It was conceded that the draft was drawn for the price or value of the lumber: Held, per Wallace, J., that, the draft being on time, it must be presumed that it was the intent of parties that Bugbee should realize from sale of the lumber the funds to meet the draft at maturity. Therefore, upon his acceptance of the draft, he was entitled to the bills of lading, and defendants were not liable for thus delivering them; but if the draft had not been upon time, a different rule might have prevailed. (Woolen & Webb vs. N. Y. and Erie Bank, 12 Blatchf., p. 359.)
- XI. L. transmitted to a bank a draft indorsed "for collection on his account." The bank provisionally credited the draft, when received, to L., presented it for payment, and surrendered it to the drawee on receipt of his check for the amount. Instead of demanding the money on this check, the bank had it certified "good," and on the same day suspended payment. The next day the check was collected, and the money mingled with the other money in the hands of the receiver: Held, that the receiver held the funds in trust for L. (Leri vs. Missouri Bank, 5 Dillon, p. 104.)
- XII. The general power of a bank to collect ceases by its suspension, as to paper previously deposited therewith. (Jockusch vs. Towsey, 51 Tex., p. 129.)

COMPROMISES.

- I. In adjusting and compromising contested claims against it, growing out of a legitimate banking transaction, a national bank may pay a larger sum than would have been exacted in satisfaction of them, so as to thereby obtain a transfer of stocks of railroad and other corporations, in the honest belief that, by turning them into money under more favorable circumstances than then existed, a loss which it would otherwise suffer from the transaction might be averted or diminished. (First National Bank vs. National Exchange Bank, 2 Otto, p. 122.)
- II. So, also, it may accept stocks in satisfaction of a doubtful debt, with a view to their subsequent conversion into money, in order to make good or reduce an anticipated loss. (Ibid.)
(See, also, Title "ESTATE, REAL," I, post.)

LXXVIII REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

COMPROMISES—Continued.

- III. A court has no power, under section 5324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, to order the receiver of a national bank to compound debts which are not "bad or doubtful"; and a composition under such an order, of debts not bad or doubtful, is ineffectual. (Price, Receiver, &c., vs. Yates, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 204, U. S. circuit court, western district Pa.)
- IV. A receiver compromised suits with counsel for the United States: Held, that the compromise would not be opened after a lapse of years, no fraud being alleged. Henderson v. Myers, 11 Phil. (Pa.), 616.
[NOTE.—This must have been a compromise made without a special order of court.]

COMPTROLLER.

- I. The Comptroller appoints the receiver, and can therefore remove him. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., p. 498.)
- II. The Comptroller's certificate, reciting the existence of the facts of which he is required to be satisfied, to justify the appointment of a receiver, under section 50 of the national-bank act, is sufficient evidence of the validity of such appointment, in an action brought by such receiver. (Platt vs. Bebee, 57 N. Y., p. 339.)
- III. The Comptroller must authorize any increase of the capital stock of a national bank; and such increase must be certified by him as prescribed by section 13 of the act of Congress providing for the organization of national banks. (Charleston vs. People's National Bank, 5 S. C., p. 103.)
- IV. The Comptroller cannot subject the United States Government to the jurisdiction of a court, though he appears and answers to the suit. (Case vs. Terrill, 11 Wall., p. 199.)
(See, also, title "SHAREHOLDERS, INDIVIDUAL LIABILITY OF," post.)

CONVERSION.

- I. The conversion of a State into a national bank works no dissolution, only a change of the original corporation; nor does the latter thereby escape any of its liabilities. (Maynard vs. Bank, 1 Brewster, Pa., p. 453; Kelsey vs. National Bank of Crawford County, 69 Pa., p. 426; Coffey vs. National Bank of the State of Missouri, 46 Mo., p. 140.)

CREDITORS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

- I. The respective rights and liabilities existing between a national bank and its creditors and debtors become fixed when its insolvency occurs. * * * All the property and assets of the association then become a fund legally dedicated, first, to the satisfaction of any claim of the United States for the redemption of its circulating notes, and, second, for a ratable distribution of the balance among its general creditors upon the principle of equality. (Balch vs. Wilson, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 276; 25 Minn., p. 299.)

CURRENCY.

- I. The word "currency," in a certificate of deposit, means money, including bank notes, which, though not an absolute legal tender, are used as money by authority of law, and are in circulation generally, at the locus in quo, on par with coin. (Klauber vs. Biggerstaff, 47 Wis., p. 551.)

CURRENCY ACT.

- I. The purpose of the currency act was, in part, to provide a currency for the whole country, and, in part, to create a market for the government loans. (Per Strong, J., in Tiffany vs. National Bank of the State of Missouri, 18 Wall., p. 413.)
- II. National banks organized under the act of Congress of June 3, 1864, are the instruments designed to be used to aid the government in the administration of an important branch of the public service; and Congress, which is the sole judge of the necessity for their creation, having brought them into existence, the States can exercise no control over them, nor in any wise affect their operation, except so far as Congress may see proper to permit. (Per Swayne, J., in Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank vs. Dearing, 1 Otto, p. 29.)
- III. The constitutionality of the act of June 3, 1864, is unquestioned. It rests on the same principle as the act creating the second Bank of the United States. The reasoning of Secretary Hamilton and of this court in McCulloch vs. The State of Maryland, 4 Wheat., p. 316, and in Osborne vs. Bank U. S., 7 Wheat., p. 708, therefore applies.
- IV. The power to create carries with it the power to preserve. The latter is a corollary of the former. (Ibid., per Swayne, J., pp. 33, 34.)

DEBTORS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

- I. Debtors of an insolvent national bank, when sued by the receiver, cannot object that pleadings do not show a compliance with all the steps prescribed by statutes as preliminary to the appointment of such receiver. (Cadle, Receiver, &c., vs. Baker & Co., 20 Wall., p. 650.)
- II. Such ordinary debtors may be sued by receiver without previous order of the Comptroller. (Bank vs. Kennedy, 17 Wall., p. 19.)

DEPOSITS.

- I. CERTIFICATES OF.—A certificate of deposit was issued by a bank for a certain sum, subject to the order of the depositor at a certain date, payable on the return of the certificate: Held, in an action on said certificate against the bank, brought by an assignee, that there could be no recovery without proof of an actual demand and refusal of payment. (Brown vs. McElroy, 52 Ind., p. 404.)
- II. In a suit against the bank, upon a stolen certificate of deposit given by the defendant to the plaintiff, reciting that he had deposited in the bank a certain number of dollars, payable to his order in current funds, on the return of the certificate properly indorsed: Held, first, that the instrument should be regarded as the promissory note of the bank, assignable under the statute (of Indiana), but that it was not negotiable as an inland bill of exchange, being made payable not in money, but “in current funds”; second, that the payee could recover on said stolen certificate without giving a bond against a subsequent claim thereunder by another person. (National State Bank vs. Ringel, 51 Ind., p. 393.)
- III. Where a bank issues a certificate of deposit, payable on its return properly indorsed, it is liable thereon to a bona-fide holder, to whom it was transferred seven years after it was issued, notwithstanding the payment thereof to the original holder. Such certificate is not dishonored until presented. (National Bank of Fort Edward vs. Washington County National Bank, 5 Hun., N. Y. Sup. Court, p. 605.)
- IV. Under a statute prohibiting the circulation of bills or notes not payable on demand, banks have no power to issue time certificates of deposit; and such certificates, if issued, are void. They are equivalent to post notes. (Bank of Peru vs. Farnsworth, 18 Ill., p. 563; Bank of Orleans vs. Merrill, 2d Hill [N. Y.], p. 295; Leavitt vs. Palmer, 3 N. Y. [Comst.], p. 19.)
(See, also, “CURRENCY,” supra.)
- V. GENERAL.—The relation between a bank and its depositors is that of debtor and creditor only, and is not fiduciary. Thus, a note deposited for collection, if passed to the credit of the depositor in his general account, then overdrawn, becomes the property of the bank, which becomes indebted to him for the proceeds. Upon the bankruptcy of the bank, the proceeds are assets available to the general creditors. And the fact that the account was made good by other deposits before collection of the note makes no difference. (In re Bank of Madison, 5 Bissell, p. 515. A national bank may also apply a deposit in payment of a matured note held against the depositors. (Home Bank vs. Newton, 8 Ill., App., 563.)
- VI. A deposit is general, unless the depositor makes it special, or deposits it expressly in some particular capacity. And in case of a general deposit of money with a banker, a previous demand by the depositor, or some other person by his order, is indispensable to the maintenance of an action for the deposit, unless circumstances are shown which amount to a legal excuse. (Brahm vs. Adkins, 77 Ill., p. 263.)
- VII. A national bank having become insolvent, a depositor therein assigned his deposit to a debtor of the bank: Held, that the latter could not offset such deposit against his debt, in an action thereon. (Venango National Bank vs. Taylor, 56 Pa., p. 14.)
- VIII. A depositor was also indebted to the bank on bond and mortgage: Held, that he could offset his deposit against said indebtedness, the bank being in the hands of a receiver. (Matter of New Amsterdam Savings Bank vs. Garter, 54 How. [N. Y. Pr.], p. 385.)
- IX. The claims of depositors in a suspended national bank are, when proved to the satisfaction of the Comptroller of the Currency, on the same footing as if they were reduced to judgments, and from date of such proof bear interest. (National Bank of the Commonwealth vs. Michigan National Bank, 94 U. S. [4 Otto], p. 437.)
- X. SPECIAL.—The taking of special deposits to keep, merely for the accommodation of the depositor, is not within the authorized business of national banks; and the cashiers of such banks have no power to bind them on any express contract accompanying, or any implied contract arising out of, such taking. (Wiley vs. First National Bank, 47 Ft., p. 546.)

DEPOSITS—Continued.

[NOTE.—To the same effect was the decision of the New York court of appeals in First Nat. Bank of Lyons vs. Ocean Nat. Bank, 60 N. Y., p. 278. But it is to be remembered that in both these cases only the act of the cashier was relied upon to bind the bank. In the latter case it was stated that there was no proof of even implied knowledge or assent on the part of the directors. In the well-reasoned case of Weckler vs. First Nat. Bank of Hagerstown, 42 Md., p. 581, these cases are cited with decided approval; but a recent decision of the supreme court goes very far towards establishing a different doctrine. In National Bank vs. Graham, 100 U. S., p. 699, the supreme court held that section 5228 R. S. U. S. conferred upon a national bank power to receive and take charge of special deposits, such as the public securities of the government, and that such bank is liable in damages for the loss, through gross negligence, of such deposit, when it had been made with the knowledge and acquiescence of its officers and directors. The learned judge who delivered the opinion (Mr. Justice Swayne) cited numerous State decisions, only referring to the cases in Vermont as being in conflict with the weight of adjudications, and based the conclusion of the court upon the doctrine that "gross negligence on the part of a gratuitous bailee, though not a fraud, was equivalent thereto in legal effect, and that the doctrine of ultra vires has no application in favor of a corporation when guilty of a wrong."]

- XI. A national bank receiving a special deposit for safe-keeping, without reward, is liable only for gross negligence. The burden of proof is on the plaintiff, and gross negligence is not the omission of that care which every attentive and diligent person takes of his own goods, but the omission of that care which the most inattentive takes. (First National Bank, &c., vs. Rex, 89 Penn., p. 308.)

In Pattison vs. Syracuse Bank, 80 N. Y., 82, the case of Nat'l Bank of Lyons vs. Ocean National Bank is substantially overruled, following the ruling in Nat'l Bank vs. Graham.

DIRECTORS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

- I. Directors of a national bank may remove the president, both under the law of Congress and the articles of association, where the latter so provide. The power exists if the bank has adopted no by-laws. (Taylor vs. Hutton, 43 Barb., N. Y. Sup. Court, p. 195; S. C., 18 Abb. Pr. R., p. 16.)
- II. In all cases where an act is to be done by a corporate body, a majority of the whole number of directors is necessary to constitute a valid meeting; but at a meeting when a quorum is present the majority of those present may act. A by-law adopted when less than a majority are present is void. (Lockwood vs. American National Bank, 9 Rhode Island, p. 308.)
(See Title "OFFICERS," post.)
- III. The power to compromise or release claims in favor of a bank is in the board of directors, and not within the scope of the cashier's authority. (Chemical Bank vs. Kohner, 8 Daly [N. Y.], p. 530.)

EMBEZZLEMENT.

- I. When the president of a national bank, having charge of its funds, converts them to his own use, he embezzles and abstracts them within section 55 (R. S., sec. 5209) of the national-bank act, unless he shows authority for thus using them. (In the matter of Van Campen, 2 Benedict, p. 419, per Blatchford, J.)
- II. Although false entries in regard to such embezzlement are made on the books of such bank by the clerk, but by the order of the president, the latter is chargeable as principal; and the intent to defraud the bank is to be inferred from the fact of such embezzlement. (Ibid.)
- III. The cashier of a national bank was indicted under said section 55 for embezzling and willfully misapplying the moneys of the bank with intent to defraud, &c. On trial it was proved that defendant took the moneys of the bank and used them in stock speculations, carried on in his own name, by depositing the same with a stock broker as "margins" for stock bought on his own account. Held, that the intent to injure or defraud was conclusively presumed upon proof of the act charged; and, therefore, evidence was not admissible to prove that the cashier used the funds with the knowledge and consent of the president and some of the directors of the bank, and on account of and for the benefit of the bank. (United States vs. Taintor, 11 Blatchf., p. 374.)

[NOTE.—This last case was decided in the United States circuit court, southern district of New York, Woodruff, Blatchford, and Benedict, JJ., all concurring in the decision.]

EMBEZZLEMENT—Continued.

- IV. A State court has no jurisdiction of the crime of embezzlement by an officer of a national bank situated within the State. (Commonwealth vs. Felton, 101 Mass., p. 204; State vs. Tuller, 34 Conn., p. 280.) But in this latter case it was also held that while a teller of such bank could not be punished for embezzling the funds of the bank, he could be convicted, under the statute of the State, for purloining property deposited with such bank for safe-keeping; and in Commonwealth vs. Barry, 116 Mass., p. 1, it was decided that though an officer of a national bank, who has stolen its property, may be subject to punishment for embezzlement under the national law, he may also be punished for the same act, as a larceny, under the statute of the State.

ESTATE, REAL.

- I. The want of power of a bank, or of its trustee (receiver) in insolvency, to purchase and hold real estate, does not render void an arrangement whereby land subject to a lien in favor of the bank, and to other liens, is discharged of those other liens by funds from the assets of the bank, the land being then sold, and the entire proceeds of such sale realized to the bank assets, provided the title does not pass through the bank or its trustees. (Zantingers vs. Ganton, 19 Wall., p. 32.)
- II. In Union National Bank et al. vs. Mathews, 98 U. S., p. 658, the court recognized the doctrine that, "where a corporation is incompetent by its charter to take a title to real estate, a conveyance to it is not void, but only voidable, and the sovereign alone can object. It is valid unless assailed in a direct proceeding instituted for that purpose."
- [NOTE.—Thus it would seem that a mortgage executed to secure a present loan, or any other conveyance of real estate to a national bank, must be held valid until declared void in a direct proceeding instituted for that purpose by the United States Government.]
- (See also, Wroten's Assignee vs. Armat, 31 Grattan, p. 238.)
- III. The title to real estate taken by a national bank, on adjustment of a liability in its favor, must be held valid until attacked by the United States, in direct proceedings instituted for that purpose. Such title cannot be impeached collaterally, in an ejectment suit. (Mapes et al. vs. Scott et al., 94 Ill., p. 379; National Bank vs. Whitney, 106 U. S., p. 99; Graham vs. National Bank, 32 N. J. Eq., p. 804; Warner vs. Dewitt, 4 Ill. App., p. 305.)
- (See, also, Title "LOANS ON REAL ESTATE," post.)

ESTOPPEL.

- I. A shareholder in a national bank, who has participated in its transactions as such, and received dividends, is estopped from denying the legality of its incorporation. The same rule applies to one accustomed to deal with a national bank as such, as by giving his promissory note to such bank. (Wheclock vs. Kost, 77 Ill., p. 296; National Bank of Fairhaven vs. Phoenix Warehousing Company, 6 Hun. [N. Y.], p. 71; Casey vs. Galli, 94 U. S., p. 673, and numerous cases therein cited.)
- II. The Manufacturers' National Bank of Chicago, defendant, being the city correspondent of the People's Bank of Belleville, plaintiff, guaranteed to the latter bank the payment of certain notes of one Picket, pursuant to an agreement that thus guaranteed their amount should be, as it was, debited to the account of the Belleville bank. Such agreement, and the guarantee in pursuance thereof, were made by the vice-president of the defendant bank, with the assent of the president and cashier, but without the assent of the directors. Held, that under the circumstances the defendant bank was estopped from setting up, as a defense, that such guarantee was ultra vires. (People's Bank vs. National Bank, 101, U. S., p. 181.)
- [NOTE.—It will be observed that this decision stops far short of legalizing naked accommodation paper made by a national bank.]
- III. A national bank which has wrongfully converted to its own use the property of another, is estopped from denying its liability to account therefor upon the ground that it received and held the property in carrying on the business of a warehouseman, outside the powers conferred by its charter. (German National Bank vs. Meadowcroft, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 462. Sup. Court Ill.)

EVIDENCE.

- I. Even if it be within the authority of the president of a national bank to bind the bank by an agreement with the acceptor of a draft, which is discounted by the bank, not to enforce the draft against him, yet oral evidence of such an agreement is not competent in defense of a suit by the bank against the acceptor. (Davis vs. Randall, 115 Mass., p. 547.)

LXXXII REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

EVIDENCE—Continued.

- II. The certificate of the Comptroller of the organization of a national bank is conclusive evidence as to the completeness of such organization, in a suit against one of its shareholders. (Casey vs. Galli, ante; Thatcher vs. West River National Bank, 19 Mich., p. 196.)
- III. In ordering an assessment for the payment of the debts of an insolvent bank, the stock certificates and stock ledger of the bank must be taken by the Comptroller of the Currency, in the absence of fraud or mistake, as showing who the stockholders were at the time of the failure. (Davis vs. Essex, Baptist Society, 44 Conn., p. 582.)
- IV. The maker of a certificate of deposit cannot overcome its effect, as proof of a deposit actually made, except by clear and satisfactory evidence. (First National Bank of Lacon vs. Meyers, 83 Ill., p. 507.)

INTEREST.

- I. Under section 30, act of 1864, a national bank in any State may take as high rate of interest as by the laws of such State a natural person may stipulate for, although State banks of issue are restricted to a less rate. (Tiffany vs. National Bank of the State of Missouri, 18 Wall., p. 409.)
- II. As the action was virtually brought to recover the penalty for usury, the statute (section 30) must receive a strict construction. (Ibid., p. 409.)
 [NOTE.—In Missouri, natural persons may take ten per cent., but State banks are restricted to eight per cent. In this case the national bank had taken nine per cent.—Held, legal.]
- III. In a suit by a national bank upon a bill of exchange discounted by it, the acceptor cannot set up by way of counter-claim, or set-off, that the bank in discounting a series of bills of said acceptor, the proceeds of which it used to pay other bills, knowingly took, and was paid, a greater rate of interest than that allowed by law. (Barnett vs. National Bank, 98 U. S. [8 Otto], p. 555.)
- IV. The act of June 3, 1864 (R. S., sec. 5198), having prescribed that, as a penalty for such taking, the person paying such unlawful interest, or his legal representative, may in an action of debt against the bank recover back twice the amount so paid, he can resort to no other mode or form of procedure. (Brown vs. Second National Bank of Erie, 72 Pa., p. 209; Barnett vs. National Bank, 98 U. S., p. 555.)

[NOTE.—The above case of Barnett vs. National Bank, 98 U. S., p. 555, overrules several State adjudications, and settles several points in regard to usurious interest as affecting loans by national banks. It holds that when suit is brought by such bank to recover a loan made at usurious rate, stipulated for, but not paid, the entire interest thus agreed upon, but no part of the principal, is forfeited, and the latter may be recovered in full; that when the usurious interest has been paid, twice its sum may be recovered by the borrower, but this can only be done by a suit directly brought for that purpose, which suit must be in the nature of an action of debt, commenced, of course, within the two years specified. Suppose, then, A borrows $1,000 from a national bank on 90 days time, and for the loan actually pays usurious interest in advance. Suppose his paper is protested and suit is brought upon it. It follows that while A cannot offset twice the usurious interest he has paid, nor any part thereof, in reduction of the face of his paper, the bank can recover from him not only the principal of the loan, but legal interest thereon from the date of maturity of the note or bill.]

(See, also, Natl. Bank vs. Dearing, 91 U. S., p. 29, and Title "USURY," post.)

- V. ON CLAIMS OF CREDITORS.—Where a national bank is put in charge of a receiver, under section 50 of the original Currency Act (R. S., sec. 5234), and a sufficient sum is realized from its assets to pay all claims against it and leave a surplus, the Comptroller ought to allow interest on the claims during the period of administration, before appropriating the surplus to the stockholders of the bank. An action of assumpsit by the holder of such a claim will not lie against the Comptroller, nor against the receiver, but will lie against the bank. (Chemical National Bank vs. Bailey, 12 Blatchf., p. 480.)
- VI. In such action interest is recoverable on all demands originating in contract conditioned for the payment of interest, and on all demands for money due and unpaid, by way of damages for non-payment after such demands became due. And interest is recoverable on a balance due a depositor in such bank, although he has made no formal demand of payment. (Ibid.) But, as to this last point, see the ruling of the Supreme Court.

INTEREST—Continued.

- VII. In the case of National Bank of the Commonwealth vs. Mechanics National Bank, 4 Otto, p. 437, the United States Supreme Court decided that a depositor in a national bank, when it suspends payment and a receiver is appointed, is entitled from the date of his demand to interest on the deposit; that the claims of depositors in such bank at date of suspension, for the amount of their deposits, are, when proved to the satisfaction of the Comptroller of the Currency, placed upon the same footing as if reduced to judgments; that is to say, they draw interest from the time of such proof and allowance. It was also decided that, such interest being a liquidated sum at the time of the payment of the deposit, an action lies to recover it, and interest thereon.
- VIII. When the Comptroller assesses shareholders to pay the debts of an insolvent national bank, such assessment bears interest from the date of the Comptroller's order. (Casey vs. Galli, ante.)
- IX. A statute of New York, fixing the rate of interest at 7 per cent., also makes forfeiture of principal and interest the penalty for taking interest at a greater rate. Notwithstanding this statute, the courts of that State have held that the payee of a promissory note may, in good faith, sell and indorse it to a third party for a sum agreed upon, amounting as discount to any rate in excess of that prescribed by law; that such purchaser may recover from the maker principal and interest in full, and that if it be necessary to resort to the indorser, the purchaser may recover against him the actual sum paid for the note with interest.

Acting upon these adjudications, a national bank in that State, discounted for a customer notes (all paid at maturity) for sums aggregating $2,735.36, in excess of the legal rate of interest. Subsequently the seller sued the bank to recover, under sections 5197 and 5198 of the National-Bank Act, the penalties therein prescribed, to wit, double the aggregate paid.

In the State courts the plaintiff had judgment as prayed, and on writ of error to the court of appeals of New York, the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed the judgment below; holding that,

"Although under the laws of New York a contract between natural persons to reserve and pay upon the discount of business paper any stipulated rate of interest (discount) may be valid, such contract, if a national bank be party thereto, and the paper be, in pursuance thereof, transferred to it, is in violation of said sections, if the rate agreed upon exceeds 7 per cent., and subjects such bank to the penalties therein prescribed. (National Bank vs. Johnson, 104 U. S., 271.)"

JUDGMENTS.

- I. A judgment against a national bank in the hands of a receiver, upon a claim, only establishes the validity of such claim; the plaintiff can have no execution on such judgment, but must await pro rata distribution. (Bank of Bethel vs. Pahquioque Bank, 14 Wall., p. 383, and Clifford, J., p. 402.)

JURISDICTION.

- I. A United States district court has jurisdiction to authorize a receiver of an insolvent national bank to compromise a debt. (Matter of Platt, 1 Ben., p. 534.)
- II. A resident (citizen) of Kentucky was a creditor of a national bank located in Alabama, and commenced a suit on his claim against said bank in the supreme court of the State of New York, at the same time attaching certain moneys belonging to said bank, in the hands of the National Park Bank, in New York. Subsequently the receiver of the Alabama bank (which had failed) was, on his own motion, made party defendant to the action pending in the New York supreme court, and pleaded "want of jurisdiction," and other defenses. The supreme court overruled his plea to the jurisdiction, rendered judgment against the receiver on the merits, and ordered satisfaction to be made from the moneys attached. Thereupon the receiver filed his bill in chancery in the United States circuit court for the proper circuit, praying an injunction to restrain the collection of the judgment rendered by said supreme court, and that the moneys attached be paid to him as receiver. Held, that, by the provisions of the Currency Act, the State court was deprived of jurisdiction of the attachment proceedings; that the receiver was not estopped by the proceedings in said State court from asserting his rights in said circuit court, and that he was entitled to the relief prayed for in his bill. (Cadle, Receiver, &c., vs. Tracy, 11 Blatchf., p. 101.)
(See, also, Title "RECEIVERS," VII, post.)

JURISDICTION—Continued.

- III. State courts have no jurisdiction of actions to recover penalties imposed by the National-Bank Act. (Newell vs. National Bank of Somerset, 12 Bush. [Ky.], p. 57.)
(See, also, Title "EMBEZZLEMENT," IV, ante.)
- IV. The United States circuit court has no jurisdiction of a suit by a private person to restrain or interfere with the Treasurer of the United States or the Comptroller of the Currency in the discharge of their duties in respect to bonds deposited to secure the redemption of circulating notes of a national bank. (Van Antwerp vs. Hulburt, Blatchf., p. 426.)
- V. An action will not lie against the Comptroller nor the receiver, upon a claim against an insolvent national bank, but will lie against such bank. (Chemical National Bank vs. Bailey, ante. See, also, Bank of Bethel vs. Pahquoque Bank, ante.)
- VI. A national bank cannot be sued in the United States district courts outside of the district where it is located. (Main vs. Second Nat. Bank of Chicago, 6 Bissell, p. 26.)
- VII. Nor can such action be brought against a national bank in a State court, save in the county or city where it is located. (Crocker vs. Marine National Bank, 101 Mass., p. 240.)
(See, also, Title "ACTION," VII, ante; also "EMBEZZLEMENT," IV, ante.)
- VIII. The provision of section 5198, U. S. Rev. Stats., requiring that suits, actions, and proceedings against a national bank in any State, county, or municipal court must be brought in the county in which such bank is located, is held to apply to transitory actions only, and not to such actions as are by law local in their character. (Casey, Receiver, &c., vs. Adams, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 102. U. S. Supreme Court.)
[NOTE.—The jurisdiction of the local court was sustained in this cause, although it seemed clear that a complete remedy might have been had in the U. S. circuit court at New Orleans, where the bank was situated.]
- IX. National banks are not entitled, by force of the national-bank act, to have any suit in a State court, wherein they are parties defendant, removed to a Federal court. (Wilder vs. Union Nat. Bank, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 124.)
- X. National banks are not authorized to sue in the Federal courts out of the districts in which they are located, when the amount sued for does not exceed $500. (St. Louis Bank vs. Brinkham, 1 McCrary, 9.)
[NOTE.—As to present jurisdiction of Federal and State courts, see act of Congress of July 12, 1882, proviso to section 4.]

LOANS IN EXCESS.

- I. A loan by a national bank in excess of the restriction of section 29 of the act of 1864 (Revised Statutes, section 5200), which provides that the total liabilities of any person (borrower) shall not exceed ten per centum of the capital stock, &c., is not void on that account. The loan may be enforced, though the bank may be liable to proceedings for forfeiture of its privileges, &c., for making it. (Stewart vs. National Union Bank of Maryland, 2 Abb., United States, p. 424. See, also, O'Hare vs. Second National Bank, 77 Pa., p. 96.)
- II. In Samuel M. Shoemaker vs. The National Mechanics' Bank, and The same vs. The National Union Bank, application for injunction, &c., United States circuit court, Baltimore, Md., Judge Giles held, * * * "As to the first charge in this bill against the defendant, in reference to the amount loaned to Bayne & Co., in violation of the twenty-ninth section of the act of June 3, 1864, I would only say that the loan made under such circumstances is not void; it can be enforced as any other loan made by the bank." (Vide 31 Md., p. 396.)
- III. The validity of a loan in excess of the above-named statutory restriction was established and set at rest by the decision of the United States supreme court, in the case of Gold Mining Company vs. Rocky Mountain National Bank, 96 U. S. [6 Otto], p. 640.

LOANS ON REAL ESTATE.

- I. A executed a note to B, and, to secure payment thereof, also executed a deed of trust on lands, which was in effect a mortgage, with a power of sale thereto annexed. A national bank, on the security of the note and deed, loaned money to B, who thereupon assigned them to the bank. The note not being paid at maturity, the trustee was proceeding to sell the lands pursuant to the power, when A filed a bill in chancery to enjoin the sale upon the ground that by sections 5136-37, Revised Statutes, the deed did not inure as a security for a loan made by the bank at the time of the assignment of said note and deed: Held, that the bank was entitled to enforce collection of the note by a sale of the lands pursuant to the power in the deed of trust. (Union National Bank of St. Louis vs. Matthews, 98 U. S. [8 Otto], p. 621.) Mr. Justice Miller dissented, holding the note valid, but that the deed was inoperative as security to the bank.

[NOTE.—It is now well settled that a mortgage given to secure a loan from a national bank, executed directly to the bank when the loan is made, is valid, unless set aside by proceedings instituted for that purpose by the government. (National Bank vs. Whitney, 103 U. S., p. 98. Graham vs. National Bank, 32 N. J. Eq., p. 804. Warner vs. Dewitt, 4 Ill. App., p. 305. Thornton vs. Exchange National Bank, 71 Mo. 221.)]

LOANS ON SHARES.

- I. National banks are governed by the act of 1864, which repealed the act of 1863, and cannot, therefore, make loans on the security of their own shares, unless to secure a pre-existing debt, contracted in good faith. (Bank, &c., vs. Lanier, 11 Wall., p. 369.)
- II. The placing of funds by one bank on permanent deposit with another bank is a loan within the spirit of section 35 of act of 1864. (Ibid., p. 369.)
- III. Loans by such banks to their shareholders do not create a lien on the shares of such borrowers. (Ibid., p. 369.)
(See, also, Bullard vs. Bank, 18 Wall., p. 580; and "BY-LAWS," supra.)
- IV. But a national bank has the right to make loans on negotiable notes secured by the stock of another corporation, of marketable values. (Shoemaker vs. National Mechanics' Bank, 1 Hugh., p. 101.) The same doctrine was also held in case of Germania National Bank et al. vs. F. F. Case, receiver, &c., decided by the United States supreme court at its last term. It will be reported in 99 U. S.

LOCATION.

- I. Under sections 6, 8, 10, 15, 18, and 44 of the original Currency Act (13 Stat. at Large, 101), respecting the location of banking associations, a national bank is to be regarded as located at the place specified in its organization certificate. If such a place is in a State, the association is located in that State. (Manufacturers' National Bank vs. Baack, 8 Blatchf., p. 137.)

OFFICERS.

- I. CASHIER. The cashier is the general executive officer of a bank, having charge of its funds, notes, bills, and other choses in action. Either directly or through his subordinates he receives all moneys and notes of the bank, delivers up discounted paper when paid, draws checks to withdraw funds of the bank when deposited, and generally, as such executive officer, transacts most of the bank business. (United States vs. City Bank of Columbus, 21 How., p. 356, and numerous later decisions.)
- II. But the cashier can make no declaration binding the bank not within the scope of his general powers. (Bank of Metropolis vs. Jones, 8 Pet., p. 12; S. P., 3 Wats & S., Pa., p. 317; 3 Gill [Md.], p. 96.)
- III. A cashier who has made sale of corporate property, and holds a balance in his hands, is the agent of the board of directors, and not of the respective stockholders, and cannot be charged by an individual stockholder as holding such balance for his benefit. (Brown vs. Adams, 5 Biss., p. 181.)
- IV. A cashier, without special authority, cannot bind his bank by an official indorsement of his individual note, and the onus is on the payee to show such authority. (West Saint Louis Savings Bank vs. Shawnee Co. Bank, 3 Dill, p. 403.)
- V. Although the cashier of a bank may, in the ordinary course of business, without the action of the directors, dispose of the negotiable securities of the bank, he has not the power to pledge its assets for the payment of an antecedent debt. (State of Tennessee vs. Davis, 50 How. [N. Y.], p. 447.)
- VI. A cashier has not the authority to compromise or release a claim of the bank. (Chemical Bank vs. Kohner, 8 Daley [N. Y.], p. 530.)
- VII. DIRECTORS. It is the duty of directors of a bank to use ordinary diligence in acquiring knowledge of its business. They cannot be heard, when sued, to say that they were not apprised of facts the existence of which is shown by the books, accounts, and correspondence of the bank. They should control the subordinate officers of the bank in all important transactions. Therefore, under the circumstances proved in this particular case, they were held liable for the abstraction and sale of special deposits by the latter. (United Society, &c., vs. Underwood, 9 Bush [Ky.], p. 609; German Bank vs. Wulfekuhler, 19 Kansas, p. 60.)

OFFICERS—Continued.

- VIII. The cashier of a national bank, who had executed no bond, embezzled its funds, discovery whereof might have been effected by use of slight diligence on the part of the directory. They, however, published, according to law, a statement of the condition of the bank, which showed that its affairs were being prudently and honestly administered, and from which the public had a right to believe that he was trustworthy. Afterwards, persons who had seen this report became sureties on the official bond of the cashier, and for his subsequent embezzlements were sought to be held liable thereon: Held, that such sureties, being misled by the statement, were released. They had a right to believe that the directors, before publishing it, investigated the condition of the bank. (Graves vs. Lebanon National Bank, 10 Bush [Ky.], p. 23.)
- IX. The mere fact that directors of a bank knew of and sanctioned overdrafts will not release from liability the sureties of a teller who causes a loss to the bank by permitting overdrafts; for the directors of a bank have no power to sanction overdrafts. (Market Street Bank vs. Stumpe, 2 Mo., App., 545.)
- X. PRESIDENT. A guarantee against loss for signing as sureties, given by a bank president without authority from the directors, to those whom he had solicited thus to sign a note, given to the bank to retire a prior note held by it against their principal, is held to be the individual contract of the president, and not binding upon the bank. (First National Bank vs. Bennett, 33 Mich., p. 520.)
- XI. A president of a bank bought the stock of A. for $1,000, and in payment gave up to A. his note for that amount, which the bank held against A.: Held, that the president exceeded his powers, and that the bank could recover from A. the amount of the note thus surrendered. (Rhoads vs. Webb, 24 Minn., p. 292.)
- XII. A president of a bank, who, with the cashier, had the general charge of its business, permitted and directed the drawing of moneys from the bank by one irresponsible, without security, and for a business in which the president was interested with the party drawing the funds. He requested the cashier not to say anything of it to the directors: Held, that the president was personally responsible for the moneys thus drawn. (First National Bank of Sturgis vs. Reid, 36 Mich., p. 263.) Quere: Would not an indictment for embezzlement lie under the national-bank act?
- XIII. The president of a bank, as such, has no authority to release the claims of the bank against any one. Such authority must come from the directors, by vote or implication. (Olney vs. Chadsey, 7 R. I., p. 224.) Nor can he bind the bank to pay or become liable for a debt by his admission. (Henry vs. Northern Bank, 63 Ala., p. 527.)

POST-NOTES.

- I. Certificates of deposit, payable at a fixed future day, held to be equivalent to post-notes, and therefore void, as prohibited by a State law. (See, ante, Title "DEPOSITS, CERTIFICATES OF," IV, and cases there cited.)

RECEIVERS.

- I. The receiver of a national bank is the instrument of the Comptroller, and may be removed by him. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., p. 505.)
- II. Such receiver is the statutory assignee of the assets of the bank, and may sue to collect the same in his own name, or in the name of the bank for his use. (Ibid., p. 506.)
- III. In such suit it is not necessary to make the bank or creditors parties. (Ibid., p. 506.)
- IV. The receiver of a national bank represents such bank and its creditors, but he in no sense represents the United States Government, and cannot subject the government to the jurisdiction of any court. (Case vs. Terrill, 11 Wall., p. 199.)
- V. The decision of a receiver, rejecting a claim against his bank, is not final. Claimant may still sue. (Bank of Bethel vs. Pahquioque Bank, 14 Wall., p. 383.)
- VI. The clause of section 50, act of 1864, which prescribes that the receiver shall be "under the direction of the Comptroller," means only that he shall be subject to his direction, not that he shall not act without orders. He may and must collect the assets. That is what he is appointed for. (Bradley, J., in Bank vs. Kennedy, 17 Wall., pp. 22-3.)

RECEIVERS—Continued.

VII. Receivers of national banks are officers of the United States, within the meaning of the act of Congress of March 3, 1815, giving United States courts jurisdiction of actions by United States officers, and may sue in such courts. (Platt, receiver, &c., vs. Beach, 2 Ben., p. 303.)

[NOTE.—The judge places stress upon the provision of section 31 of the act of 1864, which requires (in that particular instance) that the Secretary of the Treasury shall concur in the appointment of the receiver.]

VIII. Receiver not liable to be sued on a claim against the bank. (See Title "JURISDICTION," V, ante.)

IX. The personal assets and personal property of an insolvent national bank in the hands of a receiver appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency in accordance with the provision of section 5234 of the Revised Statutes, in legal contemplation still belong to the bank, though in the hands of the receiver to be administered under the law. The bank does not cease to exist on appointment of the receiver. Its corporate capacity continues until its affairs are finally wound up, and its assets distributed. (Rosenblatt vs. Johnston, Chief Justice Waite, U. S. supreme court, October term, 1881.)

SET-OFF.

I. In an action brought to enforce the individual liability of a shareholder of an insolvent bank, such shareholder cannot set off against such liability the amount due to him as a creditor of the bank. (Garrison vs. Howe, 17 N. Y., p. 458; In re Empire City Bank, 18 N. Y., p. 199.)

[NOTE.—Though these cases were decided by a State tribunal (New York court of appeals), and the rulings were based upon provisions of a State constitution and a State statute, yet the principle they enunciate is recognized and fully affirmed in Sawyer vs. Hoag, 17 Wall., p. 610, and Seammon vs. Kimball, 2 Otto, p. 342. See, also, Venango National Bank vs. Taylor, 56 Pa., p. 14.]

II. A creditor of an insolvent national bank, being such at date of its suspension, may set off the amount of his claim against any claim held by the bank against him at the same date; as, for example, his note, even though such note had not then matured. (Berry vs. Brett, 6 Bos. [N. Y.], p. 627; New Amsterdam Savings Bank vs. Garter, 54 How. [P. R.], p. 385; Platt, receiver, vs. Bentley, 11 Am. Law Register, p. 171; Hade, receiver, vs. McVay, 31 O. St., p. 231; same case, Brown's National Bankrupt Cases, p. 353; and see the cases cited on p. 357, viz, 56 Maine, 167; 1 Paige [N. Y.], p. 444; 12 Gray [Mass.], p. 233.)

III. Usurious interest paid cannot be set off. (Hade vs. McVay, 31, O. St., p. 231; Barnet vs. National Bank, 98 U. S., p. 555.)

SHAREHOLDERS.

I. GENERAL RULES. A person is presumed to be the owner of stock when his name appears on the books of a company as a stockholder; and when he is sued as such, the burden of disproving such presumption is cast upon him. (Turnbull vs. Payson, 95 U. S. [5 Otto], p. 418.)

II. Shareholders have no standing in court to interfere for the protection of their company, until the board of directors has neglected, or refused on application, to take the proper steps to protect the interests of the company. (Fifth National Bank, &c., vs. Railroad Co., 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 190.)

III. Shares of stock in a national bank are salable and transferable like other personal property; and the statute recognizes this transferability by authorizing each association to prescribe the manner of their transfer. (Johnston vs. Laffin, 103 U. S., per Field, J., on p. 803.)

IV. This power can only go to the extent of prescribing conditions essential to the protection of the association against fraudulent transfers, or such as are designed to evade just responsibility. It must be exercised reasonably. Transfers cannot be clogged with useless restrictions, nor be made dependent on the consent of directors or stockholders. (Ibid.)

V. As between the parties to a sale, it is enough that the certificate of stock is delivered, with authority to the purchaser, or any one he may name, to transfer it on the books of the association, and payment of the price. (Ibid., p. 804.)

VI. The entry of the transaction on the books of the association is required, not for the translation of title, but for the protection of parties and others dealing with the bank, to enable the bank to know who are its stockholders, entitled to vote and receive dividends. It is necessary to protect the seller against subsequent liability as stockholder, and, perhaps also, to protect the purchaser against proceedings by creditors of the seller. (Ibid., Field, J., p. 804.)

SHAREHOLDERS—Continued.

- VII. When a national bank reduces its capital, each shareholder is entitled to a return of his proportional amount, and the bank cannot retain the funds as surplus, or for any other purpose; and having refused to permit shares thus retired to be transferred on its books, the bank is liable for the value of the shares to the holders. (Seeley vs. New York National Exchange Bank, 4 Abb. New Cases, p. 61.)
- VIII. INDIVIDUAL LIABILITY OF. The Comptroller must decide when and for what amount the personal liability of the shareholders of an insolvent national bank shall be enforced. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, 8 Wall., p. 505.)
- IX. His decision as to this is conclusive. Shareholders cannot controvert it. (Ibid., p. 505; Casey vs. Galli, 94 U. S. [4 Otto], p. 673; Germania National Bank et al. vs. Case, Receiver, U. S. supreme court, not yet reported.)
[NOTE.—These cases are decisive against the ruling in Bowden vs. Morris, 1 Hugh., p. 378.]
- X. In any suit brought to enforce such personal liability, such decision of the Comptroller must be averred by the plaintiff, and, if put in issue, must be proved. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, supra.)
- XI. The liability of shareholders is several, and not joint. (Ibid., p. 505.)
- XII. The limit of such liabilities is the par value of the stock held by each one. (Ibid., p. 505.)
- XIII. Where the whole amount is sought to be recovered, the proceeding must be at law; where less is required, the proceeding may be in equity, and in such case an interlocutory decree may be taken for contribution, and the case may stand over for the further action of the court, if such action should subsequently prove to be necessary, until the full amount of the liability is exhausted. (Ibid., p. 505.)
- XIV. In such equity suit, all shareholders within the jurisdiction of the court should be made parties defendant; but it is no defense that those not within the jurisdiction are not joined. (Kennedy vs. Gibson, supra.)
- XV. Suits to enforce personal liability of shareholders may properly be brought before other assets are exhausted. (Ibid., pp. 505-6.)
- XVI. One Stevens bought shares in a national bank, and caused them to be transferred to one Elston, a porter in the office of his New York broker, and irresponsible. At the time of the transfer, there was no suspicion of the insolvency of the bank, and it remained in good credit for more than a year afterward: Held, that Stevens was liable as stockholder upon the failure of the bank. (Davis, Receiver, vs. Stevens, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 158. U. S. circuit court Southern district N. Y., per Waite, C. J.)
- XVII. Where, before the failure of a bank, stock was transferred on its books to the name of an irresponsible person, for the purpose of escaping liability, and so stood at the time of the appointment of a receiver: Held, that the receiver could show who the real owner was, and that the latter was liable for the assessment. (Ibid.)
- XVIII. RATABLE LIABILITY OF. Mr. Morse, in his Treatise on Banks, &c., second edition, p. 503, states the law in substance as follows: "The liability of each stockholder is precisely for his ratable proportion of that indebtedness of the bank which is to be borne by the shareholders. It is for his share of such total indebtedness, not for his proportion of each item thereof. Neither are the solvent shareholders, or those who can be come at for collection, liable to assessment beyond the proportional amount as above stated, by reason of the insolvency or inaccessibility of others of the shareholders. Those who are solvent and accessible have not the burden of paying off the sum which is due from all together; only their own proportionate share." This theory was fully sustained by the United States supreme court, in the case of United States vs. Knox, 102 U. S., p. 422. See also the cases there cited.
- XIX. LIABILITY OF EXECUTOR, ADMINISTRATOR, AND HEIRS OF. Where stockholder died before failure of bank, stock not having been transferred to name of administrator: Held, that the stock is not to be regarded as having been at the time of the failure the property of the administrator, in such a sense as to constitute him a shareholder within the meaning of sec. 5152, U. S. Rev. Stat., so as to limit liability of the estate to funds actually in the hands of administrator. Held, also, that the provision of the act exempting executors, administrators, and trustees from personal liability was not intended to affect the liability to assessment of estates in process of settlement, but only to prevent a personal liability from running against persons acting in a trust capacity, who had received the stock for the benefit of trust estates. (Davis vs. Weed, 44 Conn., p. 569.)

SHAREHOLDERS—Continued.

- XX. The liability of a stockholder is in the nature of a contract, and as such was a personal liability, for which his estate was holden at his death. (Davis vs. Weed, supra, citing Hawthorne vs. Calef, 2 Wall., p. 22; Lowry vs. Jamon, 46 N. Y., p. 119; Bailey vs. Hollister, 26 N. Y., p. 112.)
- XXI. LIABILITY OF TRUSTEE OF. To protect trustee of stock from personal liability it must appear upon the books that he held as such trustee. (Davis vs. Essex Baptist Society, 44 Conn., p. 582.)
- XXII. Creditors have a right to know who have pledged their personal liability. (Ibid.)
- XXIII. If a trustee wishes to disclose his trusteeship, there is no difficulty in giving notice upon the books of the bank. If he does not do so he is guilty of laches, for which others should not suffer. (Ibid.)
- XXIV. The settlement of the affairs of an insolvent bank would be rendered a matter of great labor, expense, and delay if persons who appeared upon the books of the bank as individual stockholders were permitted to relieve themselves by proof alimunde that they held the stock as executors, guardians, or trustees. (Ibid.)

[NOTE.—The last-cited case, and Davis vs. Weed, supra, although reported in the Connecticut Reports, were decided by the United States district court.]

- XXV. LIABILITY OF TRANSFEREE OF. The transferee of shares, when such transfer is absolute on the books of the bank, is liable to creditors to the amount of such shares, although in fact he holds them as collateral security for a loan to the shareholder who transferred them. (Hale vs. Walker, 31 Iowa, p. 614; Adderley vs. Storm, 6 Hill, p. 624; Van Riker's case, 20 Wend., p. 614; Bowden, Receiver, vs. Santos et al., 1 Hugh., p. 158; Marcy vs. Clark, 17 Mass., p. 330.)

[NOTE.—In the Bankers' Magazine for January, 1875, is a notice of the case of Mann, Receiver, vs. Dr. Cheeseman, decided by Blatchford, J., in the United States circuit court, in New York, in which the judge held that until there was a transfer of shares on the books of the bank, the shareholder whose name there appeared was liable for the debts of the bank; that an actual sale and the signing of the ordinary power of attorney on the back of the certificate will not relieve the seller. To the foregoing rulings of State and other subordinate tribunals may now be added the decision of the supreme court of the United States, in Germania Bank et al. vs. Case, Receiver, already cited. The Germania National Bank of New Orleans discounted a note for the firm of Phelps, McCullough & Co. for $14,000, at ninety days, taking as part security therefor the pledge of 100 shares of the Crescent City National Bank stock, with power of attorney to the Germania cashier to transfer, sell, &c., on default in payment of the note. Phelps, McCullough & Co. failed, and the note was protested at maturity. Prior to the maturity of the note, the Crescent City Bank sustained such heavy losses that it was notoriously in bad repute in New Orleans; and yet, when the note fell due, the cashier of the Germania immediately transferred to his own bank, upon the books of the Crescent City Bank, the 100 shares so pledged. Afterwards, on the same day, he transferred 76 of these shares to one Waldo, a clerk of the Germania Bank; and on the day following transferred the remainder to said Waldo. It was proved that Waldo paid nothing, was the mere agent of the Germania Bank, which still owned the 100 shares as security for the payment of said note, and that one of the principal reasons for the transfers to Waldo was the possible liability of the shareholders of the Crescent City Bank for its debts in case of insolvency. Soon after, the Crescent City Bank failed. Held, per Strong, J., that the transfers to said Waldo were void as against said receiver, and that although the Germania Bank only held said shares as collateral security for the payment of said discount, it was still liable as owner for the assessment in this case ordered by the comptroller. The opinion is able and fortified by numerous authorities. In this same case, at a former term, upon a motion to dismiss the appeals of certain of the appellants, the Supreme Court recognized the right of the Comptroller to make an additional assessment, if deemed necessary; and for this reason sustained the appeals, holding that the matter in dispute was, or might be, over $5,000, although the decrees appealed from were severally less than that amount. The assessment was for 70 per cent.]

(See, also, Pullman vs. Upton, 96 U. S. [6 Otto], p. 328, as to liability of transferee.)

SHAREHOLDER'S RIGHT TO SUE.

- I. In an action by a shareholder of a national bank charging the directors with misconduct, if the complaint fails to show a demand on the Comptroller for and his refusal of a direction to the receiver to bring suit, it is bad, and the action must fail; though it is said that if the Comptroller, in a proper case, should thus refuse, probably the stockholders could sue, making the bank a proper party. (Brinkerhoff vs. Bostwick, 23 Hun. [N. Y.], 237.)

NOTE.—In a suit at law in New Jersey, by one Ackerman, a shareholder, against Halsey, president of the Mechanics' National Bank, it was by Mr. Justice Depue Held. 1st. That a suit under section 5239 of the National Bank act, to enforce the liability of a director for misconduct, should be brought by the corporation, or, when in the hands of a receiver, by him. 2d. That in the event of the improper refusal of the corporation or receiver to sue, one or more shareholders might institute a suit; but in such instances the suit should be for the benefit of all shareholders, making the bank or receiver a proper party, and, of course, the proceedings should be, not at law, but in equity.

SHARES OF STOCK.

- I. A national bank whose certificates of stock specify that the shares are transferable on the books of the bank on surrender of the certificates, and not otherwise, and which suffers a shareholder to transfer without such surrender, is liable to a bona fide transferee, for value of same stock, who produces such certificate with usual power of attorney to transfer; and this is so though no notice had been given to the bank of the transfer. (Bank vs. Lanier, 11 Wall., p. 369.)
- II. Shares are quasi negotiable. (Ibid., p. 369.)

SURPLUS FUND.

- I. Where the shares of a national bank are assessed for taxation at their par value, the surplus fund of such bank, in excess of the amount required by law to be kept on hand, is taxable. (First National Bank vs. Peterborough, 56 N. H., p. 38.) But when such shares are assessed at their market value, and the amount of such surplus is taken into account in estimating such market value, it is not taxable. (State vs. City of Newark, 10 Vroom [N. J.], p. 380.)
- II. Neither a dividend which has been declared, nor a portion of capital of a national bank remaining after a reduction has been made, can be retained by the directors to constitute a surplus fund. (Seeley vs. New York National Exchange Bank, 4 Abb. [N. Y.], p. 61.)
- III. The surplus fund which a national bank is required, by section 5199, U. S. Revised Statutes, to reserve from its net profits, is not excluded, in the valuation of its shares for taxation. (Strafford National Bank vs. Dover, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 296, Sup. Court N. H., following National Bank vs. Commonwealth, 9 Wall., p. 353; People vs. Commissioners, 94 U. S., p. 415.)

TAXATION.

- I. BY LICENSE. The District of Columbia imposed a license tax on all the national banks in the District, the rate being 50 cents annually on each $1,000 of the capital invested. The Citizens' National Bank refused to pay this assessment, and a test case was made in the District criminal court, Mr. Justice MacArthur presiding. This court, after full argument, held the tax illegal and void, as being contrary to the mode of taxation prescribed by Congress, which mode was held to be exclusive. This ruling of Judge MacArthur is fully sustained by the supreme court of Missouri, Carthage vs. Carthage National Bank, 71 Mo., 508; also by National Bank of Titusville vs. Cadwell, U. S. Dist. Court, West. Dist. Pa., Fed. Reporter, XIII, p. 429.)
- II. OF INSOLVENT BANKS.—A tax levied upon the property of a national bank, subsequent to its insolvency, is subordinate to the rights of a receiver, even though he be appointed after such levy. (Woodward vs. Ellsworth, 4 Colo., p. 590.)
(See Title "SURPLUS FUND," supra.)
- III. OF INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS.—Under the internal-revenue act of July, 1870, interest paid and dividends declared during the last five months of 1870 are taxable, as well as those declared during the year 1871. (Blake vs. National Banks, 23 Wall., p. 307.)
- IV. OF SHARES OF STOCK.—The act of 1864, rightly construed, subjects the shares of the association in the hands of shareholders to taxation by the States, under certain limitations set forth in section 41, without regard to the fact that part or the whole of the capital of such association is invested in national securities, which are declared by law exempt from State taxation. (Van Allen vs. Assessors, 3 Wall., 573. Chase, C. J., and other judges dissented.)

- V. Act thus construed is constitutional. (Ibid., p. 573.)
- VI. A certain statute of New York, which taxed shares of national-bank stock, declared void, because shares of State banks were not taxed, although their capital was; the act of Congress prescribing that shares of national banks shall be taxed only as shares of State banks are. (Ibid., p. 573. The ruling as to taxing shares of stock reaffirmed in Bradley vs. People, 4 Wall., p. 459; National Bank vs. Commonwealth, 9 Wall., p. 353.)
- VII. In last case, Held, that a State law requiring the cashier to pay the tax was valid. Held, also, that a certain State tax law virtually taxed "shares of moneyed corporations," &c. (Ibid., p. 353.)
- VIII. Section 5219 of United States Revised Statutes applies to and includes as well the valuation of shares for taxation as the rate of tax to be imposed, and prohibits a State from discriminating, detrimentally to a national bank, as to either valuation or rate. Therefore, a statute of the State of New York which permitted a party, when being assessed, to deduct his just debts from the value of all his personal property, save such as was invested in shares of national-bank stock, was held void as to taxation of such shares. (People vs. Weaver, 100 U. S., p. 539, overruling the judgment of New York court of appeals in same cause.)
- IX. So in another case, where local assessors valued all other property below its cash worth, but assessed shares of national-bank stock at par, or their full value: Held, that the tax upon shares thus assessed was invalid, and that, upon payment of the amount justly assessable, a court of equity would enjoin collection of the residue. (Pelton vs. Commercial National Bank of Cleveland, 101 U. S., p. 143.)
- X. Where it appeared that throughout a portion of Ohio, including Lucas County, and perhaps all over the State, a settled rule with the equalizing officers was to value real estate and ordinary personal property at one-third of their worth, while moneyed capital was fixed at three-fifths, and the State board of equalization, without changing the valuation thus made of real estate and ordinary personalty, assessed national-bank shares at par: Held, that such unequal valuation was in violation of the constitutional rights of such shareholders; and, on payment of the tax justly due, equity would enjoin collection of the residue. (Cummings vs. Merchants' National Bank of Toledo, 101 U. S., p. 153.)
- XI. Shares of stock in national banks are personal property, and though in one sense incorporeal, the law which created them could separate them from the person of their owner, for taxation, and give them a situs of their own. (Tappan, Collector, vs. Bank, 19 Wall., p. 490.)
- XII. Section 41 did thus separate them and give them a situs of their own. (Ibid., p. 490.)
- XIII. This provision of the national currency act became a law of the property (in shares), and every State in which a bank was located acquired jurisdiction, for taxation, of all the shares, whether owned by residents or non-residents, and power to legislate accordingly. (Ibid., p. 490.)
- XIV. Under the act of Congress of February 10, 1868, enacting that each State legislature may direct the manner of taxing all shares of stock of national banks located within the State, subject to the restriction that the taxation shall not be greater than the rate assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of such State, and of a certain act of the legislature of Pennsylvania which provided that such shares shall be assessed for school, municipal, and local purposes at the same rate as is now or may hereafter be assessed and imposed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State: Held, that shares of national-bank stock may be valued for taxation for county, school, municipal, and local purposes, at an amount above their par value. (Hepburn vs. School Directors of the Borough of Carlisle, 23 Wall., p. 480.)
- [NOTE.—In this case it appeared that Hepburn owned several thousand dollars of national-bank stock, the par value of which was $100 per share, and that it was valued for taxation, for a school tax, at $150 per share. This assessment was held valid, notwithstanding that by a certain act of the State legislature, applicable to the county of Cumberland, in which the borough of Carlisle was situated, certain specified kinds of moneyed obligations were exempt from taxation except for State purposes.]
- XV. The rate of taxation of shares of a national bank by a State should be the same as, or not greater than, that upon the moneyed capital of the individual citizen which is liable to taxation; that is, no greater in proportion or percentage of tax on the valuation of shares should be levied than upon other moneyed taxable capital in the hands of the citizen. (People vs. The Commissioners, &c., Wall., p. 256.)

TAXATION—Continued.

- XVI. The act of Congress approved June 3, 1864 (R. S., sec. 5219), was not intended to curtail the power of the States on the subject of taxation, or to prohibit the exemption of particular kinds of property, but to protect the corporations formed under its authority from unfriendly discrimination by the States in the exercise of their taxing power. (Adams vs. Nashville, 95 U. S. [5 Otto], p. 19. See, also, Saint Louis National Bank, National Bank of the State of Missouri, Third National Bank, Valley National Bank, and Merchants' National Bank of Saint Louis vs. Papin, in United States circuit court, Eastern district of Missouri, September term, 1876. Also, Gallatin National Bank of New York vs. Commissioners of Taxes, supreme court of New York, first department, general term, November, 1876. These latter cases are published in the Bankers' Magazine for December, 1876.)
- XVII. OF TOWN AND CITY NOTES, ETC.—Section 3413, U. S. Revised Statutes, which enacts that every national bank, State bank, or banker, or association, shall pay a tax of ten per centum on the amount of notes of any town, city, or municipal corporation paid out by them, imposes the tax thus laid, not on the notes, but on their use as a circulating medium, and is therefore constitutional. (National Bank vs. United States, 101 U. S., p. 1.)
- XVIII. When by a State statute the citizen may have the amount of his indebtedness deducted from the total value of his personal property, thus ascertaining the amount of his personal estate subject to taxation, and a subsequent statute relating to taxation of bank shares makes no provision for such deduction, the latter statute is nevertheless the valid rule for assessing such shares in all instances where there are no debts to be deducted. That the latter statute does not authorize a deduction for debts does not invalidate it, except as to that distinct and separable principle.
- XIX. Under such statutes assessments of bank shares where there are no debts to deduct are valid. Even in cases of assessments where debts exist, which should be deducted, but are not, the assessments are voidable only, not void. (Supervisors of Albany vs. Stanley, U. S. supreme court, April, 1882. Fed. Reporter, Vol. XII, p. 82.)

TRANSFERS OF ASSETS.

- I. A preference of one creditor to another, within the meaning of section 5242, Revised Statutes, is a preference given by the bank to secure or pay a pre-existing debt. Where a person, knowing that a national bank is embarrassed, makes to it a loan, taking as security therefor a pledge of part of the assets of the bank, this transfer does not give him the preference prohibited by the statute. (Casey vs. Le Société de Crédit Mobilier, 2 Woods, p. 77.)
- II. WHEN NOT BINDING.—Under said section 5242, which declares void transfers of its property by a national bank, made in contemplation of insolvency, and with a view to give a preference to one creditor over another, or with a view to prevent the application of the assets of the bank in the manner prescribed by law, such a transfer is void if the insolvency is in the contemplation of the bank making the transfer, although the party to whom it is made does not know or contemplate the insolvency of the bank. (Case, Receiver vs. Citizens' Bank, 2 Woods, p. 23.)
- III. As to when a pledge of assets, even when intended as security for a loan to a national bank, will be held invalid, as against general creditors, see the cases of Casey, Receiver, vs. Le Société de Crédit Mobilier; Same vs. National Park Bank; Same vs. Schuchardt, 96 U. S., [6 Otto], pp. 467, 492, 494.

ULTRA VIRES.

- I. WHAT IS.—National banks cannot sell railroad bonds for third parties on commission, or engage in business of that character. (Susan Weekler vs. First National Bank of Hagerstown, court of appeals of Maryland, 42 Md., p. 581.)
- II. In an action of deceit against a national bank, for alleged false representations of its teller in the sale to plaintiff of certain railroad bonds: Held, that the selling of such bonds on commission was not within the authorized business of a national bank, and being thus beyond the scope of its corporate powers, the defense of ultra vires was open to it, and it was not responsible for the deceit of its teller. (Ibid.)
- III. A national bank has no inherent power to act as agent in the purchase of bonds or stocks for third persons, and its president cannot bind it by an agreement so to act without special authority. (First National Bank of Allentown vs. Hoch, 89 Penn., p. 324.) Query: If the bank has no such inherent power, how can it confer "special authority" on the president?
- [NOTE.—Whether the purchase of promissory notes by a bank empowered to discount them is ultra vires, is a question upon which the adjudications are in conflict. That such purchase is valid, see Pape vs. Capital Bank of Topeka, 20 Kans., p. 440; Smith vs. Exchange Bank, 26 O., p. 141, &c. Per contra, see Farmers and Mechanics' Bank vs. Baldwin, 23 Minn., p. 198; First National Bank of Rochester vs. Peirson, 1 Thomp. Cases, p. 673. There is much in the point that if a national bank can purchase promissory notes, it can do so for such price as the seller may be willing to take; and thus the prohibitions as to usury may be practically nullified. But further, why should not the rule "expressio unius est exclusio alterius" control? In National Bank vs. Johnson, 104 U. S. 271, the United States supreme court hold that a national bank may purchase business paper (promissory notes) when the transaction amounts in law, to a discount, but expressly leave undecided the question whether such bank can buy such paper "indorsed without recourse," or transferred by delivery only. (See the closing paragraph of Opinion.)

- IV. WHAT IS NOT.—A national bank took a lien upon real estate to secure a pre-existing debt. Afterward the bank paid $500 to discharge a prior lien upon the land, taking a note and mortgage on land in Kansas to secure this advance. Lien and mortgage held valid and warranted by law. (Ornn vs. Merchants' National Bank, 16 Kans., p. 341.)
- V. A chattel mortgage taken by a national bank to secure a pre-existing debt is valid, and will be enforced. (Spofford vs. First National Bank, 37 Iowa, p. 181.)
- VI. A bank organized under the national bank act has power to sell any immovable it may own, and may reserve a mortgage and vendor's privilege (lien) thereon. (New Orleans National Bank vs. Raymond, 29 La Annual, p. 355.)
- VII. It would seem that where a national bank had realized the consideration agreed upon for its guarantee of the paper of another, the doctrine of estoppel in pais precludes such bank from asserting that such guarantee is ultra vires. (People's Bank vs. National Bank, 101 U. S., p. 181.)
- VIII. A national bank has corporate power to enter into an agreement with a customer to exchange for him non-registered for registered United States bonds; and it is bound by an agreement to that effect, made for a sufficient consideration by its cashier. (Yerkes vs. National Bank, 69 N. Y., p. 382.)
(See, also, Title "DEPOSITS, SPECIAL," ante.)
- IX. A township in Vermont issued its bonds with interest coupons attached. Each coupon contained an express promise to pay, &c. A national bank bought of these bonds, and sued the township in assumpsit, on unpaid coupons: Held, that the action was in due form, and that a national bank could legally buy, hold, and sue upon such bonds and upon the coupons. (North Bennington Bank vs. Bennington, 16 Blatchf., p. 53.)

USURY.

- I. State laws relative to Usury do not apply to national banks. (Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank vs. Dearing, 1 Otto, p. 29.)
- II. The only forfeiture declared by the 30th section of the act of June 3, 1864, (Revised Statutes, section 5198), is of the entire interest which the note or bill carries with it, or which has been agreed to be paid thereon, when the rate knowingly reserved or charged by a national bank is in excess of that allowed by that section; and no loss of the entire debt is incurred by such bank as a penalty or otherwise, by reason of the provision of the usury law of a State. (Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank vs. Dearing, above cited; National Exchange Bank vs. Moore, 2 Bond, p. 170; Barnett vs. National Bank, 98 U. S. [8 Otto], p. 555.)
- III. If usurious interest has been paid to a national bank, twice the amount of interest thus paid may be recovered from such bank by the person paying the same, or his legal representative; but as this provision of the statute is penal and the same statute prescribes how such recovery may be had, no other remedy can be resorted to. It must be recovered, if at all, in a suit in the nature of an action of debt. That the borrower from a national bank has paid usurious interest can avail him nothing, as a defense, or by way of a set off, when sued for the amount of the loan, by the bank. (Barnett vs. National Bank, above cited.)
(See Title "INTEREST," ante.)
- IV. While the National-Bank Act prescribes penalties for usury, it does not make the contract (e. g. contract of indorser) void; and for the court so to decide would be to add a penalty not imposed by the statute. This the court will not do. (Oates vs. First National Bank of Montgomery, 100 U. S., p. 239.)

XCIV REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

USURY—Continued.

- V. The assignee in bankruptcy of a borrower from a national bank may sue for and recover the penalty for having received usurious interest. (Wright vs. First National Bank of Greensburg, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 138, U. S. Cir. Court, Indiana.)
- VI. The exacting of usurious interest by a national bank, upon the discount of a note, works a forfeiture of interest accruing after, as well as before, the maturity of the note. (National Bank of Uniontown vs. Stauffer, 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 178, U. S. Cir. Court, Western District Penn.)

VISITORIAL POWERS.

- I. Section 5241 U. S. Rev. Stats. prohibits a State court from compelling officers of a national bank to produce the bank books, for the purpose of ascertaining facts upon which to impose a State tax upon the deposits of depositors. (National Bank of Youngstown vs. Hughes, Auditor, &c., 2 Thomp. Cases, p. 176, U. S. Cir. Court, N. Dist. Ohio.)
